2nd Slide Rule Bowl Tuesday!

Alpha Sigs rated 6 point underdog

By Sid Doppelt

Out to blast the expert's predictions, one of the strongest football juggernauts in interfraternity history will take the field Tuesday as Alpha Sigma Phi slugs it out with the intramural champs. The Alpha Sigs breezed through a rough schedule with only 8 points scored against them while their air and ground attacks reeled off 54 on the opposition.

Bob Shuldes, playing manager of the champs, plans to lead with his top offensive team which was almost unstopable during the tournament. The team consists of:

Bob Shuldes.....center
Bob Dunn .....running back
Bill Turner .....blocking back
Bruce Tennant .....tailback

"Tennant to Lokay" has become a common expression of late. With Bruce passing and Hank doing the receiving they have personally accounted for most of the team's tallies.

Center of the team is Bob Shuldes, who coaches as well. Bob has been playing great ball in every game and his field leadership has aided in the great season achieved by the boys.

Too much praise cannot be given to the boy who sets a virtual "brick wall" between Tennant and the opposing linemen. Bill Turner has proven to be a valuable cog in the offense of the Alpha Sigs and will be set for anything that the IM champs throw at him.

Bob Dunn, speedy scat-back, is the top ground gainer of the squad. Dunn's long jaunts through and around the opposing lines have demoralized more than one team this year and have opened up many a defense in preparation for a Tennant pass.

Playing at right end is dependable Don MacCaslin who, in there on both offense and defense, has been a constant worry to all the Alpha Sig's opponents.

The reserves are made up of material which matches the ability of the first team. Joe Lokay, brother of Hank, and Reg Kramer, old man of the team but a top-notch defensive back, have really pulled some sensational plays during the season. Svend Ohrvall, Ed Haberkorn, and Bill Price complete the power laden squad.

The only man on the injured list is Jim Donahue who is hobbling around on crutches after being clipped early in the season. Jim will be cheering from the sidelines as his boys try to bring the trophy into fraternity possession.

Gremlin powerhouse set for title defense

By Bill Feliss

Yesterday afternoon the Gremlins again proved themselves to be the most powerful team engaged in IM football competition. Defeating the Flashes, 8-0, on Ogden Field, the Gremlins displayed sharp blocking along with a well-balanced running and passing attack to bring them their second IM championship in as many years.

The first break of the game came when Jerry Maatman of the Flashes dropped a punt on his own two-yard line. On the next play a bad pass from center fell into the Flashes' end zone for an automatic safety and two points for the Gremlins. Two plays later the first half ended with the Gremlins ahead, 2-0.

The second half produced good defensive plays on the part of both teams. However, the outstanding defensive moment came when the Flashes were able to keep the Gremlins from scoring when they had the ball on the Flashes' one-yard line, first and goal to go, as a result of pass interference by Jerry Maatman.

This fine defensive play proved in vain when, a few plays later, Joe Tourek of the Gremlins intercepted a pass and returned it 30 yards for a Gremlin TD. Tourek was aided on his jaunt by two great blocks on Flashes' defenders by Hank Lokay and Ray Bulka.

It is difficult to pick out the top man from a fine all-around team like the Gremlins, but if one must be selected it could be no one but Ray Bulka. Ray has distinguished himself with his deadly passing, fine receiving and brilliant defensive work throughout the season's competition. A senior ME, Ray has been a member of the great Gremlin squads for the last four years.

The majority of the Gremlins' passing chores have been handled by the deft right arm of another Ray, Klitzke, who has been the sparkplug of the team all season.

Add to Bulka and Klitzke such figures as Ed Burke, workhorse of the team; the Lokays, great linemen in their own right, and the fine all-round play of Joe Tourek, and you come up with a well-balanced, rugged squad that would be tough to beat in anybody's league.

A rather unique situation has arisen in this season's Bowl contest. The Lokay brothers, Joe and Hank, play on both the Gremlin and the Alpha Sig squads. They have chosen to play with their fraternity in Tuesday's championship tussle, with the stipulation that the Gremlins could now add to their squad any two players of their own choosing.

Tickets still available for banquet

By Marks Levy

Tonight's the night! The Alumni-Honor I sports banquet will be held in the gym, starting at 6:30 P. M. A very interesting evening for all sports enthusiasts at Illinois Tech is promised by Bert Hoffman, president of Honor I. Heading the list of entertainment are co-speakers Harold "Red" Grange, former Illinois great, and "Uncle John" Schommer, who will give talks on their respective fields of sports.

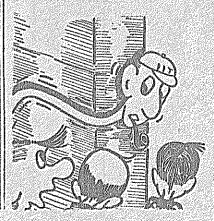
After the speeches are over, a movie titled "Disputed Plays of Football" will be shown, featuring such plays as the contested touchdown in the Navy-Notre Dame game of 1945.

Before anything gets started, a huge buffet supper, boasting everything from "soup to nuts" will be served.

Although the ticket sale has been heavy, a few still remain to be sold. Anyone interested in coming to this great affair may purchase his ticket at the door.

Everyone is urged to come and enjoy themselves, as a pleasant evening is assured. The smoker is being held in the gym this year to hold the crowd, as last year 250 people were uncomfortably crowded in the Student Union.

There will be an important meeting for all members of the sports staff of Technology News on Tuesday, November 29, at 1:15 p.m., in the Technology News office. All staff members must attend or else!



From Where I Sit

By Ed Jennings

ATHLETIC BANQUET: Bert Hoffman informs me that there will be a limited number of tickets on sale at the door tonight for the big athletic banquet. . . . It's an evening that will really be worth the $2.50 ticket price. . . . Where else can you get a huge buffet dinner, listen to Schommer and Grange, see some great movies, and have an all around enjoyable evening with your friends for such a small price . . .?

IM BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT: The deadline for entries has been set as November 23 so that Glancy can start scheduling and get the thing underway as soon as possible after Thanksgiving. . . . Just turn in your roster and free playing times at the gym office before the 23rd. . . .

SLIDE RULE BOWL: It should really be a great game. . . . Both teams have great passing and a lot of fight. . . . The IF team is rated the underdog, but anything can happen. . . . The Alpha Sigs have without a doubt the hardest charging defensive lineman in both leagues. . . . Shuldes, Turner, and the Lokays have made it awfully rough on opponents all season. . . . They will hold the key to the Alpha Sig's chances in this one. . . .

This is the second annual Slide Rule Bowl, sponsored by Technology News. . . Last year the Gremlins knocked off the Delts in a close one, 6-0. . . . If you want to see touch football as it should be played, just be on Ogden Field at 1:00 p.m., next Tuesday for the big show.

HOMECOMING: Remember, December 2 is the date and the Tech gym is the place. . . . This is your first chance to get a look at this season's potentially great Tech quintet. . . . Incidentally, our boys played great basketball against Loyola's always powerful five last week in a practice scrimmage. . . . They managed to give Loyola coach Tom Haggerty quite a few grey hairs. . . .

Leiser, McCue, and Scalamera showed great form. . . . The secret practices are still going on at an ever increasing tempo. . . . Many of the boys that last season did not come up to expectations are this season coming around in grand style. . . Glancy will probably not know definitely until after the first couple of games just who he will be able to count on for first string spots for the remainder of the season. . . .

IM FOOTBALL: This year's IM football tourney has been a tremendous success . . . the quality of play has improved, and more important the officiating and management has been tops. . . . Doppelt picked an IF all-star squad, so this poor columnist will now stick his neck out for the following selections for IM honors:

Bulka (Gremlins)	E.	Maatman (Flashes)	B.
J. Lokay (Gremlins)	C.	Spehn (Ulads)	B.
M. Louie (Lugs)	E.	Klitzke (Gremlins)	B.

Tech harriers face Ramblers in finale

By Don Anderson

The final meet of the cross country season will be held at Montrose Beach this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Opposing the Techawks will be the potentially strong team from Loyola University. Although entering the meet as strict underdogs, the harriers promise to give the Ramblers a tough match.

Last Saturday, Tech placed twelfth in the Illinois State Invitational cross country meet, repeating their performance of last year. One bright note of the contest was, as usual, Al Ashurst placing twenty-fourth in the field of 101 entries. Wheaton College won the meet, chased all the way by Illinois Normal, host college. Following Ashurst to the finish line were Harold Danko, Wally Kohler, Ed Randich, Don Anderson and Bill Cahill in that order.

The harriers topped only Navy Pier in the meet, a team that had beaten them earlier in the season.

Coach MacCauley urges anyone who is interested in watching the final effort of the year to come out to Montrose Beach this afternoon. The track is in an excellent position from the spectator's standpoint, as it can be seen entirely from the stands.

Crocker sharp; rifle team splits

The Illinois Tech rifle team last week defeated Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute 1403-1336 and then dropped a close match to Rutgers University, 1406-1403.

Don Crocker led the Techhawks by firing a neat 287; 100 prone, 94 kneeling, and 93 standing. This is a new Tech record, breaking the old one of 284 set by him last April in the National Collegiate Rifle Association shoulder to shoulder match.

Other Tech scores in the recent match were: Jim Anderson, 281; Henry Borre, 278; Joe Faul, 277.

Len Druian was re-elected captain of the team at a meeting held last Tuesday.
