Swimmers elect captains for 1950

By Ted Spath

In an election held at the Valentine's Boys' Club Monday night, the Tech mermen elected their co-captains for the coming season. Ray Klitzke and Ted Amberg, returning lettermen, were chosen to captain the squad. The co-cantains are both active members of Honor I, the Illinois Tech athletic honorary fraternity.

Amberg, an 8th term EE, started his swimming career at Loyola academy in Chicago, where in 1946 he won the Catholic league fancy diving championship. Ted distinguished himself as a star swimmer by holding the anchor position in the city championship 200 yard relay race held that year.

In 1947 Ted starred in the Illinois Tech IM swimming meet by taking first place honors in the 40 and 100 yd. free style events and by winning the fancy diving event.

In the same year Ted joined the Tech swimming squad and won his major letter. Coach Makielski expects Amberg to place high in the sprint events this year.

Ray Klitzke, 7th semester F.P.E. student has been the star diver on the swimming team for the last three seasons. Ray started his diving career during the summer of 1946 after graduating from Lane Technical High School in Chicago. Since then Ray has entered various meets throughout Illinois, Michigan and Indiana. Last year Ray climaxed the season by taking first place in the University of Chicago Invitational city meet.

During the summer vacation Ray swam in Indiana and distinguished himself by winning the Indianapolis city meet and took third place in the Indiana State meet. Besides being a key man on the 1949 Tech swimming team Klitzke is also active in numerous activities throughout the school.

Ray is president of Salamander, the FPE honorary, a member of Honor I, Delta Lambda Xi fraternity, and the Fire Protection Engineering Society.

Fraternity Row

Looking back on last week's championship game we find the same story that is typical of Alpha Sigma Phi. All of their points were the result of the passing, receiving and running of Tennant, Lokay and Dunn, respectively, as they rolled over Delta Tau Delta by an 18-0 score.

It's pretty common at this time of the year to see all star teams picked in every newspaper and magazine and we are no exception. There were quite a few top-notch men in the tournament this year but from this corner the best combination looks like this:

Bruce Tennant, Alpha Sigs..B
Bob Ross, Pi Kaps.....B
Lee Richards, Delts.....B
Hank Lokay, Alpha Sigs....E
Lee Jacobson, Triangle.....E
John Murphy, Sig Eps.....C

IF Basketball

One week from Monday the basketball tournament will start off with championship flavor. Theta Xi, defending champs, will open the defense of the cup with virtually the same great team as last year.

Opposing them will be Alpha Sigma Phi, who finished third last year and who have acquired quite a few exceptional players since then. It should be quite a battle with the victor emerging as the early season favorite for top honors.

Board of Experts in last attempt to defeat destiny

By Larry Shapiro

Pigskin Prophets "bored" of experts finally got rolling (one week before the end of the season); we done run over the games of last Saturday with an average of .792. Georgia Tech's loss to Alabama and the failure of Iowa State's Cyclones to husk Nebraska's Cornhuskers proved to be the weak points in the board's armor.

Today the "bored" fearlessly gives its last selections of the 1949 season. (Next issue we give our last excuses for our last selections of the 1949 season).

Tuesday night the "bored" was called to order by chairman Consensus. We unanimously passed the following motions: Southern Methodist and Doak Walker, Kyle Rote, etc., to win over Baylor's once-beaten Bears; California to rack up number ten in its latest win skein against the tough (please not another upset) Stanford Indians and go to the Rose Bowl unbeaten; Michigan to take Ohio State and the Big Nine title for the third straight year; Minnesota to turn back the redhot Badgers and meet California New Year's Day; Pittsburgh's Panthers to get away from Big Nine opposition and get back in stride against Penn State; the surprising Bruins of UCLA to win over the Trojans of Southern California and cinch second place in the Pacific Coast Conference, and Tulane to take the "un" out of unbeaten Virginia.

The only demurring vote cast against the ability of Justice to triumph at North Carolina was that of Speed Doppelt.

Capitalistic Doppelt also refused to go along with the mass of the people backing Northwestern over Illinois (stick with the Illini, the people's choice), and chose capitalistic Tennessee over the people of Kentucky.
