Connecting students to research resources

Your computer and ResearchWeb

Three clicks can take you far

1) Logging in to myIIT

2) At the Academics tab (Teaching for faculty)

3) At the bottom of the page...

   - Undergraduate Research Projects
   - NEW Undergraduate Research Projects

   and Voilà

The future and ResearchWeb

One button is missing

Publish

IIT craves an Undergraduate Research Journal.

- Join IPRO 321 in Fall 2010 to design the journal
- Contact Robert Ellis (rellis@math.iit.edu) to join the founding editorial board

Special thanks to:

- The Office of Undergraduate Research
- The Office of Undergraduate Admission
- The IPRO Office

Team members:

Marcos Arroyo
Titilayo Craig
Sravya Dasari
Erhan Edlinger
Jeremy Geelen
Cory Knapp
Manuel López
Sarah Wahlstrom Helgren
Andrew Yates

Advisor:

Prof. Robert Ellis

ipro321s10@iit.edu
Undergraduate Research and ResearchWeb

Why undergraduate research at IIT?
★ Push the frontiers of knowledge
★ Give students the competitive edge for graduate school and high-skill jobs
★ Attract more undergraduate students

Why ResearchWeb?
Faculty and students want to be connected, according to our survey.

Are you interested in a website for undergraduates to view and apply for research positions?

Number of respondents: 17 professors, 79 students

Students and ResearchWeb
The Research process unveiled

Find Research:

Positions
Professors post requirements and deadlines; you apply.

Perform Research:

Tutorials
We all share knowledge about software and machinery used in research.

Present Research:

Conferences
Others go, they tell you, you go, you tell everyone.

Professors and ResearchWeb
Exposure and mass publicity at your fingertips (and within your time budget)

Save time:

Positions
You post in five minutes, students get an alert and apply a few seconds later. Have a pool of applicants in one day.

Share your passion:

Labs
Tell the IIT community about your research at a central, popular location.

Look for the right student:

Students
See all students’ research interests, years and majors.

ResearchWeb is as simple and to the point as this brochure.