Module 1 focused on the use of alcohol within the workplace and the ramifications of trust within employee/manager relationships. When an untrustworthy employee comes to a manager with a questionable story, what should the manager do?

Module 2 focused on employee motivation and what can happen when employees don’t trust their boss. How can employees be recruited to a manager’s cause when they don’t even consider it?
Accomplishments

- Reviewed Articles and Books on Supervisor, Management and Leadership Training
- Determined Core Characteristics
- Reviewed Current Training Methods
- Conducted Critical Incident Interviews
- Collected 26 Real World Critical Incidents
- Selected Trust and Communication Skills for Development and Testing
- Wrote Scripts for Trust and Communication
- Created Films Using Professional Management Consultants
- Edited and Refined Films Researched Animation Software
- Weighed Advantages of Animation Vs. Film

Team Members

Writing
Kelleny Allen, Group Leader
Nivedita Chandrasekharan
Andrew Hofland
Michael Lagiglio
Andrew Mehr
Elizabeth Moss

Technical
Jeff Engel, Group Leader
Michael Greiling
Julian Hays
Adam Kadzban
Florence Lee

Advisor
Steven J. Stanard, Ph.D. has over 30 years experience in IO Psychology as former CEO of Stanard & Associates.

Want to Know More?
Contact: sjstanard@stanard.com

An example of a training module on a smartphone.