

are an integral and vital part of the Institute of Design's educational program.

in the evening sessions are members of the regular faculty.

taking evening courses are invited and encouraged to consult the director.

in the evening session are designed for professionals and others who wish to understand the problems of contemporary art and design.

provide opportunity for advanced work.