

JUNIORS BASEBALL CHAMPS

JUNIORS TROUNCE SOPHS 3-0; CROWNED INTERCLASS CHAMPS

First Game Called in Fourth With Score 4-3

MAGO PITCHES 2 GAMES

The Juniors are interclass baseball champions! They demonstrated their superiority by beating the Sophomore team 3-0.

The game was a playoff of the original game played last Monday. With the score standing 4-3, favor of the Juniors, the first game was called because of darkness. Since four innings could not be considered a game, it was agreed to play off the game the next day. The Juniors had just pulled the game out of the fire by a four-run rally in the fourth inning. Mago allowed the Sophs 4 hits and 3 runs in the curtailed game, the Juniors collecting 7 hits and 4 runs off Cannell.

In the playoff game, Mago again took the slab for the Juniors. This time he granted only 4 hits, without a single run. Hauser pitched for the Sophs and was touched for 7 hits and 3 runs. Hensen, Michalski and Stehno scored the Junior runs. The latter was the only Junior to get two hits. De Orio collected two hits for half of the Soph total.

New Men Constantly Joining Rifle Club

The rifle club, now thirty members strong, with new shooting aspirants joining constantly, promises bigger and better things for its members than ever before. Since the treasury now is in a very good shape it is probable that another gun or perhaps two will be purchased for the use of the club members. This would mean a total of three guns in the club's possession which is quite ample since all the members do not practice at the same time. The rifle range is at the Armory at 34th and Wentworth.

The library now has secured two copies of "Small-Bore Rifle Shooting," by E. C. Crossman, which should be of interest to all shooting enthusiasts. These were ordered last spring by president H. Stier, '30. Those interested in the art of shooting should see Stier, who is planning to start a weekly afternoon class soon. Theoretical as well as practical instruction will be given.

Gridiron Queries

By Professor John J. Schommer
(Editor's note: Professor John J. Schommer, star player, conference umpire, and leading football authority, will answer through this column, any questions on football which are puzzling our readers. Questions may be submitted to the Sports Editor, A. H. Jens, or they may be placed in the Armour Tech News box which is located in the main building adjacent to the elevator on the first floor.)

Question 1: A player is running with the ball in a clear field, apparently for a touchdown. He stumbles and falls; the ball in his arms touches the ground but he still has control of it. If he picks himself up before being tackled, would he be permitted to advance with the ball?

Answer 1: Yes. Not down until he touches an outbounds line or tackled and in grasp of an opponent.

Question 2: May a lateral pass be attempted beyond the line of scrimmage?

Answer 2: Yes. A lateral pass may be attempted anywhere.

Question 3: Is it possible to trick an opponent in the following manner: Team A punts ball in Team B's territory, in the immediate vicinity of the goal line. Safety man upon seeing ball roll over the goal line refrains from picking it up. Team A expects the ball will be awarded to team B on B's 20 yd. line. As referee approaches, member of team B picks up the ball, purporting to hand the ball to the referee, but instead runs through for a touchdown. Is the play legitimate?

Answer 3: This play legitimate only on a free kick and kick off. The ball in these two cases when in the end zone is then a free ball and is not dead until downed. On all other kicks the ball is dead as soon as it crosses the goal line.

Question 4: A member of the offensive team passes the ball to a team-mate after he has been tackled. Is the play allowed?

Answer 4: Yes, if the player passes the ball laterally or backward and is not legally downed before the player passes.

Question 5: Defensive team B is given possession of the ball in its own three-yard zone. On the first play team B is noticed to be off-side. Where is the ball placed for the next play?

Answer: On the one-yard line.

Question 6: Can the referee at any time place the ball behind the goal line in penalizing a team for any actions?

Answer 6: No.

Question 7: Should a player be caught "stealing" the ball, what does the referee rule?

Answer: The stealing of the ball is legitimate any time provided the ball is not dead.

TECH SHORTS

After the Juniors had defeated the Sophs 3-0, the prevalent question was, "I wonder what the class will give us for winning the interclass title?" Let's hope it's gold baseballs about the size of tomatoes.

Ogden Field is more or less completely equipped, except for flood lights. When the fourth inning of the first championship game rolled around it was as dark and foggy as the usual London fog.

In the big fourth, the 3rd year men pounded four runs across the counter. This was enough to give them a 4-3 verdict but Anderson inveigled Kraft to call the game incomplete with instructions to play 5 innings on the following day.

We were kidding about Frank James' captain, manager and coach job with the cross country team last week. We understand that Frank Marshall is now in full charge of the long distance around Ogden Field runners.

Eagle-eye Kraft was again at hand to give the boys the up and down in the big series. It seems that his friends has deserted him. He sat alone in the stands throughout the entire game.

If you wish to save your arm while pitching look up "Bud" Hauser. He is a past master at the art. If he was so fortunate as to put over a single strike in the first pitch he would then proceed to bowl over two or three balls which would usually pass over the plate on a fly.

The closest that "Bud" came to the plate when Robin was batting was around 3 feet. Well, considering who was pitching, that sure was mighty close.

Men taking gym note: Please be easy on the basket balls when in the gymnasium. Basketball Coach Kraft is going to teach fundamentals soon. Isn't that enough.

Dan Iverson is one of the veteran runners Mr. James has to build his team around. Dan is surely a good distance man.

This class of '31 is making history—Last January they took the inter-class indoor track championship. In the spring they took the inter-class relay championship and now they take the baseball championship. Come on, be sports, take your hats off to 'em, fellows.

"Von" Miran is a most versatile athlete, he can run, jump, play baseball, basketball, and do stunts.

What has Carnot's Cycle got to do with sports—answer, nothing. A. H. J.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN TO RUN SATURDAY

High School Products Will Strengthen Team

The cross-country squad's first meet is scheduled for next Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26, with either Wheaton or Loyola.

Capt. Frank James, also manager and coach, is highly pleased with the new material that has been coming out every day and expects to have quite a fast squad molded into shape by the end of the week.

Out of the 21 that signed up for the squad, five are regulars from last season, while several of the new candidates have exceptional high school records to their credit. Along with Capt. James, Johnnie Taylor, Dan Iverson and J. Hodgson will make up the backbone of the team.

Last season the west town boys beat the Techs to a score of Wheaton, 17; Armour, 38. If Wheaton is scheduled for the week end there is bound to be some keen competition, for the A. I. T.'s are waiting to avenge themselves.

In cross country racing the team with the lowest score wins. There are ten places in the meet and each place is equal to the same number of points. That is the winner gets one point, second, two points, etc. A team is not limited to a given number of men, but as many as care to may run.

Moustache War Still Rages in Our Halls

The Armour Tech Moustache Wearers are gradually being exterminated. During the last week several erstwhile members have voluntarily resigned from the organization, possibly their decisions were influenced by the very natural desire for personal safety.

One brave youth, however, after one unsuccessful attempt to amputate his hirsute accessory had been made, continued fiercely to flourish his facial foliage in the face of friend and foe alike. But, alas, tragedy was even at the time lying in wait for this brave gentleman, Marshall Brown, by name. Tuesday afternoon some twenty sophomore imps, with the aid of a razor, effected the removal of the right half of Brown's sub-nasal adornment.

13 PROVES LUCKY FOR GRINNELL

Grinnell, Iowa.—It's rare that any college ever has 13 out of 16 football lettermen return the next year but such was the situation confronting Coach Lester Watt of Grinnell this season.

Swimmers Work at U. of C. Pool

The swimming team has now started serious practice for the season. No definite practice period has been found practical for all the members to attend; however all who are able, try to be on deck at the University of Chicago pool at 57th street and University avenue, on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. This is the pool at which the Armour "ducks" have always done their splashing. Coach McGillivray, maker of swimming champs, helps the engineering boys to iron out their defects. "Mac," his popular name among the boys, himself a very able swimmer, comes from a family of note; his brother Perry holding several world's swimming records fifteen years ago.

No dates have been set for the meets this season, due to Manager Vander Velde, '30, not as yet having received replies on his many invitations sent out to various colleges. The first meet will probably be held in the latter part of November or early December.

The construction of a Union building at the University of Indiana will begin next spring. The campaign for the collection of money pledged by Bloomington people and students will start within the next few weeks.

Prowlers entered three fraternity houses at the Ohio State University making a haul of $233 in cash and other property valued at $70. The Phi Gamma Deltas suffered the heaviest loss while the Tau Kappa Epsilon and Theta Chi houses were also robbed.

The instructors of Washburn College are to have the privilege of learning fencing from one of the students, a youth of Czechoslovakia.

WEISSMAN TO BE BOXING INSTRUCTOR

student their hope for a change such as this was highly cherished; and now that it has become a reality, Armour's fighters feel justified in forecasting a prosperous season.

Issues First Call

Weissman's first call for aspiring boxers was made last Friday. A large number of delegates immediately responded, showing that the type of spirit required by leather punchers prevailed. The coach started the proceedings with a short talk and then rounded up the boys for a little drill. It will only be a matter of time now when Weissman will select the best ranking pugs and will put them into action.

Armour's boxing team, while under the guidance of Garbett, had proven that it stored a good deal of punch and was composed of promising leaders in the game. The team fought at a few Y. M. C. A. centers, at Culver Military Academy and at the University of St. Louis.

The managerial position for this season will be held by Leon J. Steck, '30. Steck served on last year's team but did not participate in any fights. His knowledge of the sport, however, proclaims him as a well chosen manager. Steck is already drawing up this year's schedule and will release it for publication as soon as it is completed.

N. D. Buehling, '30, will captain this year's squad. Buehling fought several good battles in the past season and is very likely to make a successful showing when the 1929-30 battles get under way.

Another practice session will be held in the gymnasium tonight.

All candidates are urged to report promptly. There is a special need for a heavyweight and fly-weight.

A seaplane service, carrying passengers, is soon to be started between Victoria and Vancouver by the Alaskan Washington Airways, Inc.
