

ARMOUR LOSES TO NORTH CENTRAL IN FAST TRACK MEET

Cardinals Garner All First Places But One

NELSON TAKES FIRST

Having taken first places in every event but one, and having tied for first in another, the North Central track men ran away with a Tech delegation to their fieldhouse by a 75-2-3 to 28-1-3 count last Thursday.

Gillette of North Central was the star of the evening, scoring twelve points. Nelson, Neal, and Faust, Armour hopefuls, accounted for five points apiece; half of Armour's total.

Faust Loses Close Race

Disappointing as the score may seem, the meet, nevertheless, had its excitement. Faust, Armour star miler, forced the spectators to stand up as he strained his face and caught up with Nelson of North Central, in the last lap of the mile, only to disappoint them by reaching the tape less than a foot behind his opponent.

Neal in Tie for First

In the 60 yd. high hurdles Captain Roberts of Armour knocked over the last obstacle, thereby losing his balance and finishing in third place. As was expected, George Nelson captured the half-mile in fast time. After a projected jump off proved futile, Neal of Armour and Gillette of North Central shared a first place in the broad jump.

The Cardinals outstepped the Techs in the finale of the evening, the 8 lap relay, mainly by their ability to round the sharp curves which characterize their fieldhouse.

Tech Swimmers See Action in Two Meets

Last Saturday the Tech swimmers participated in a quadrangular meet at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The three other schools entered were the Milwaukee State Teachers College, and Wright and South Side Junior Colleges of Chicago.

To top a crowded week-end, the Techmen staged a return meet with Loyola University on Monday. With the return of Wally Tallafus to the lineup following the removal of a troublesome molar, the Tech chances were equalized because Rog Knaus, another of the team's mainstays, took sick on the date of the South Side meet last week.

Dollenmaier and Warner Elected to Lead Cagers in Coming Season

With the close of one of the most successful basketball seasons in years, the Tech basketball team, after the straightening out of all business pertaining to letters, elections, and future appointments, will settle down to a life of ease.

Capt. Lauchiskis and Christoph have played their last games for Armour, but their names will remain engraved in the sports annals of Armour through their valiant efforts and fine sportsmanship.

Eight men have earned their right to major letters and two to minor. The major letter men are Captain Lauchiskis, Al Christoph, Harry Dollenmaier, Gene Heike, Julian Levy, Bob Merz, and Pop Warner. John F. Humiston, as retiring manager, is the eighth man to earn his major award. Minor letters were awarded to Bill O'Brien and Ellis Doane.

Bill Succeeds Humiston

William Bill has been chosen to succeed John Humiston as manager of the squad and has begun his duties successfully by ending up with the proper number of suits.

Next year's team will have Harry Dollenmaier and Pop Warner as co-captains—something new in Tech sports history. The team, in their recent meeting decided that the "twin" guards could not be separated.

Roland Warner, known to all as "Pop", has quite an impressive history as a basketball man. Entering the sport six years ago, he placed on the Englewood "Y" team, playing under the same coach who taught Ray Plfum, former Tech basketball captain, the tricks of the trade. Warner was a member of the team when they won the city, county, and A.A.U. basketball championships. While playing with Armour, "Pop" has won two major letters and is slated for a third. Teamed with Harry Dollenmaier, "Pop" forms a part of the guarding duo that has settled the uncertainty created by Plfum's graduation.

Incidentally, both of the co-captains are juniors in the E. E. dept.

Harry Dollenmaier started his basketball career on the Libertyville high school team. After great success on the hardwood, "Dolly" branched off into other fields of athletics and now belongs to that select group, "the all-around athletes." Showing his ability to burn the candle at both ends, Dollenmaier went out for both baseball and basketball during his first year at Armour but was forced to drop the former because of a broken finger. Harry has won basketball letters each year and is due for another this season. His persistent guarding has helped to make the combination of "Pop" and "Dolly" cause trepidation among opposing teams.

Albert Lauchiskis, retiring captain of the team, has attained a brilliant record while at Armour. Having been interested chiefly in scholastic attainment while at Marshall high, the "Lugan" did not get an opportunity to go out for basketball until his senior year. On coming to Armour, Al excluded sports during his Freshman year. As a newcomer to the basketball team he gained the distinction of high point man for the season, and maintained a high place on the scoring column during his three years on the team. Lauchiskis has not failed to retain his scholastic standing despite the time spent in his athletic conquests.

Seventh Running

Twice each year we are sufficiently aroused from our usual lethargic state to set forth some of the details of Armour's greatest attraction—The Armour Relay Carnival. This edition of Tech Shorts is number 64 in a long line of nonsense written by your correspondent and it should be a pre-view of some of the things that may happen next Saturday. If it isn't, then don't say you haven't been warned.

Champion of Champions

The field for this year's meet seems to be the most outstanding of the six preceding meets. Following immediately after the Conference meet and the Central Intercollegiate it may resolve itself into the rubber contest between the victors of both of these meets and the ultimate winners topped with the title WESTERN CHAMPION.

Slips Don't Count

When a great athlete begins to slip the concert of "I told you sos" mounts with increasing vehemence. Such is the case of the midnight express of Marquette University and the one jinx runner of the Armour Relays. We mean Ralph Metcalfe who for almost 10 years has been monarch of the cinder path in all distances up to 220 yards. His records created in scholastic, collegiate, national, and international competition can scarcely be equalled—but can they? Already there appears on the horizon several sprinters who are ready to take up the reins controlled so long by Metcalfe. Several lads, Owen of Iowa and Owens of Ohio State seem capable of doing just this. Then too we must not forget Michigan's Willie Ward who is a superlative performer not only in the short sprints but also in the field events.

A Man's Man

We have often thought that Armour's venerable emeritus professor Charles W. Leigh, should be awarded an "A" blanket for his distinguished service to A. I. T. athletics. This would certainly be small tribute for the many years of council and advice Professor Leigh has given to Tech athletic teams.

Nine C's Too

One day last autumn while we were browsing through the musty basement of Bartlett gym we came across the picture gallery wherein we saw photographs of all U. of C. athletic teams. Our interest was attracted to the period from 1905-1910 during which time the name Schommer was legend on the Chicago campus. We counted John's features in no less than a dozen of these pictures and under several was the caption "John Schommer, Captain." We then hid ourself to the U. of C. Trophy Room and there we saw the name Schommer engraved on more gold footballs, basketballs, and track trophies than we care to mention.

A Long Guess

Relay records are now pegged so high that there is little chance of any wholesale revision of present standards. Notwithstanding this fact we look for slight improvement in the 70 to possibly seven flat, the 440 to less than 50 seconds, high sticks to better than 8.6, high jump to well over 6 feet 6, the iron ball toss to near the 50 foot mark and the broad jump around 24 feet. All of these times and distances are well within the ability of some of Saturday's contestants.

Possible World Marks

It may interest you to know that any national or world marks set at the Armour games would be eligible for recognition. The officials of the Relays are duly recognized by national and international associations and their recommendations would be given consideration.

You Might Pick 'Em Too

We look for few repeaters from last year. Meagher of Notre Dame looks like the class of the broad-jumpers and should retain his title. Sandbach, world record holder in the high sticks, will experience plenty of tough going but if his injured leg holds up he should again return the victor. Fleming of Northwestern might repeat his 880 triumph of 1934 but he will have to step plenty fast to do it. Unless Michigan and Ohio appear, Herman of Carleton has our ticket in the 70. Thus we have stuck our neck out and if these men do not come through as expected, well, look us up sometime and we'll tell you why.

Ting-a-Ling Ring

One time Ring W. Lardner was asked to write his biography. He did and this was included: "Came to Armour Institute for a mechanical engineering course. Took rhetoric and mechanical drawing and shop work. Passed in rhetoric and quit school by request." You may remember Ring as a famous sport writer.

Mosta of the Besta

Many great track athletes have taken part in the Armour Relays. Take a look at this array of collegiate, national, and world champions and see if you don't agree. Let's see now, there was Dale Letts of Chicago, Nelson of Butler, Don Paul of Armour, Gerboth of Milwaukee, Parker of Lake Forest, Brocksmitth of Indiana, McCormick of Notre Dame, Fuqua of Indiana, Johnson or Illinois State, Brooks of Chicago, Pongrace of Michigan State, Chamberlain of Michigan State, Beecher of Indiana, Hornbostel of Indiana, Libert of Michigan State, Woolsey of Illinois, Sandbach of Purdue, Sears of Purdue, Lennington of Illinois, Keller of Pittsburg, Ottey of Michigan State, Herman of Carleton, Cook of Illinois, Berwanger of Chicago, Meagher of Notre Dame and Lowry of Michigan State. What a crowd! And they all, at one time or another, vied for the coveted Armour Relay medal.

... when anything satisfies it's got to be right...no "ifs" or "buts" about it.

Chesterfields satisfy because, first of all, they're made of the right kinds of mild ripe tobaccos. These tobaccos are thoroughly aged and then blended and cross-blended.

It takes time and it takes money, but whatever it costs in time or money we do it in order to give you a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.
