|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| I don't believe in love           | Left to drown                   |
| For all there is to gain          | No room for resolutions         |
| Is a couple dried up tears        | Just questions left unsaid      |
| And a heart that throbs with pain | A friendship left to tatters    |
| The numbness spreads all over     | As she smiles to mask the dread |
| As the sadness fades away         | Make them happy                 |
| Realizations ebbing               | Make him happy                  |
| My fantasies away                 | Make her happy                  |
| One silly girl                    | Just stay happy                 |
| One silly crush                   | I don't believe in love         |
| A stupid habit fed by trust       | For it only leads to lies       |
| Once soaring high                 | You silly girl                  |
| A heart shot down                 | You should have known           |
| In a sea of sorrow                | That all you'd do is cry        |

Coffee Ex Coffee

Reno Waswil

Sitting in a small neighborhood cafe people watching
 lapping like dogs
 They sure look like their enjoying their coffee
 And what is that
 Is that a crepe?
 It looks really good
 All crumbly and sweet
 Or savory
 Looks like he's really enjoying it

God, I'm hungry
 And I'm late!
 Where's my coffee?
 I ordered it like
 5 minutes ago?!
 God, this place is the worst

And look at that smug guy over there
 Eating his smug crepe
 And typing an email or something on his Apple computer
 He thinks he so great
 I bet he's eating an apple crepe too
 He thinks he owns the place

You know what?
 I bet he does
 Seems like it, from his crumbly, crepe face
 You know what?

I know what to do
 This'll really get them
 Let me must just log on to my yelp account here
 0 stars!
 Take that Starbucks
 And on your own free wifi too
