

Techawks Rebound to Take Naval Armory, George Williams

Ray Murphy Lads IIT Scoring Column in Last Two Games Before Being Discharged

The Techhawk cagers added two more games to the win column last week by defeating Naval Armory 62-59 and George Williams 61-52. Both games were return contests.

In the first game with Naval Armory, the Techmen shaded the Navy outfit by a 58-56 count. On Jan. 19 the Tech squad lost to George Williams at the 53rd St. court 45-43, when the team's free throw average nosedived to the .360 mark. The squad missed 16 out of 25 chances which played a definite hand in their defeat.

Ray Murphy led his teammates to victory over the Armory five with 16 points while Janchenko piled up 12 field goals and two free throws for the losers. The Techawks held a two point lead at the intermission 26-24.

The Scarlet and Gray avenged their first loss to George Williams when they emerged victorious 61-52 at the Valentine gymnasium last Thursday. Ray Murphy, in his last game for Illinois Tech, again led the scoring with 14 points. Following Murphy were Bergstrom, Lake, and Smart who tossed in 13, 12, and 10 tallies respectively.

Indicating that the game would not be lost at the foul shot stripe, the team didn't miss a gratis shot during the entire first half. Tech was leading at the Midway point of the game.

Tomorrow night the cagers return to the road to engage the Chicago Teachers College five. Little is known about the schoolmaster quintet as their schedule has been limited to mediocre competition. Coach Weissman intends the game to serve as a final warmup for the return battle with Loyola.

The team was dealt a severe blow when it was learned that Ray "Gunner" Murphy has dropped out of school to accept his discharge. Murphy, first string guard and one of the top scorers on the squad, was not counted on to repeat his stellar performance in the initial Loyola tilt. It must be remembered that one of "The Gunner's" field goals in the first Loyola game evens the score at 56 all which eventually caused the contest to be thrown into a double overtime before the Ramblers managed to eke out the win.

With Murphy gone, Weissman will probably start Browning and Evers in the guard spots with Melek serving as the number one alternate. A large crowd, anticipating another rough and tumble game, is expected to turn out for the game Saturday night. It will be played on the Rambler's court on the north side. The gym may best be reached by the Howard Street elevated.

A meeting of all men interested in trying out for the tennis team will be held at 5 p.m. today in room 105 Chapin, Coach Paul "Bud" Hermann announced.

Intended to give Hermann an idea of the material he will have to work with, the meeting marks the second step of the 1946 net campaign. The first has already been made in the naming of Tom Feehery as manager. Bud said he is expecting lettermen Jerry Evert and Gene Hill to return this year.

Intense athletic activity burst on the campus last week with the navy rifle team, the wrestling team, the interfraternity bowlers, the track squad, the hockey team, and the netmen all either meeting their first opponents or laying the foundation for the coming campaigns. These outfits shared the spotlight with other athletics already in full swing such as varsity and interfraternity basketball, the intramural ping pong tournaments and the swimming campaign.

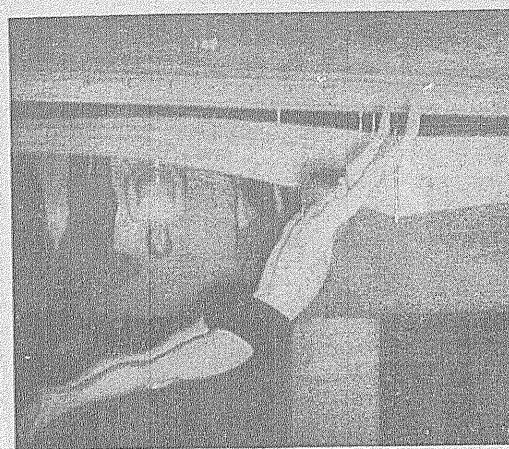

It was a week of victories for Techmen also. The cagers rolled up two on the hardwood courts, over Naval Armory and George Williams. The tankmen splashed all over Loyola in their second contest. The navy rifle team scored a win over Duke University, marking the beginning of what looks like a successful season. The wrestlers fared not so well at U of C, but proved they had the makings of a rough outfit.

Next week should see more Tech victories. The hardwood squad comes up against the Chicago Teachers tomorrow evening and meets what will probably be a more alert Loyola team Sat. Both games are away, the CTC contest being played at CTC and the Loyola clash coming at Loyola's gym on the north side. The Tech mermen have meets this week, against U of C and Loyola, also both away. The wrestlers will take on U of C's matmen in the gym in Main Building tonight, and will meet the rough CYO aggression Friday. The boxers have entered three men in the north side Golden Gloves tournament which starts tomorrow evening at Loyola's gym.

Coach Roy McCauley has again sent out a call for track men to contact him. His javelin, discus, and shotput spots have been filled, but the squad is seriously short of pole-vaulters. In talks with other coaches, including high school track mentors, he has discovered that twelve men, former cinder grinders, are now attending Illinois Tech, and have not as yet reported for the track workouts. If they are interested, he urges them to see him at once.

Striking out on their own, the freshmen have organized an independent basketball team, the "Frosh Eagles," and have issued a challenge to any team on the IIT campus to play them. Some interesting competition should develop from this challenge, the frosh having what looks like a fast squad.

Point Making Performance

Leading the Tech mermen to a 59-25 win over Loyola, Captain John Matielki displays the form that won him 253 points in last week's meet at Valentine Boys Club. U. of C. and a return meet with Loyola round out this week's schedule.

Techhawk Tank Team Triumphs Over Loyola by 59-25 Tally

The Techhawk swimming team triumphed over Loyola by a 59-25 point score at the Valentine Boys Club pool last Wednesday. Springing back from their initial loss to Illinois University two weeks ago, the Tech mermen took firsts and seconds in all but two events.

In the 220 yard free style event Bob Rix of Loyola was hard pressed by Bill Kissinger all the way in winning in 2:27.5. Rix again copped a first in the 150 yard back stroke, winning in 1:53.1. Tech's back stroke man, Bill Maier, developed a severe leg cramp in the sixth lap and was forced to withdraw.

Illinois Tech will meet University of Chicago's swimming team tomorrow evening at the U. of C. pool. Saturday they are to swim a return meet against Loyola at Loyola.

Three Pugilists to Enter Golden Gloves

Boxing Coach "Sonny" Weissman has announced the entrance of three Techawk boxers in the Golden Gloves Tournament tomorrow night. The bouts will be held at Loyola Gymnasium, January 30 at 7 p.m.

Carrying the Techawk banner in the tourney are Jack Barclay, Joe Dannenmaier, and Willy Schulte. Dannenmaier, the heaviest man of the Tech entrants at 160, boxed quite a bit in high school, and was mainstay on the Culver Military Academy squad. While at Culver, he boxed against Morton Junior College and Purdue University.

Willy, at 136, was a former Pacific fleet man who boxed considerably on the U.S.S. Honolulu. Barclay was a Golden Glove entrant two years ago and is entered in the 147 pound class. Sonny is going all out for his boys and promises to have a professional second for the bouts.

Bill Newman, Liebman, O'Donnell, and Rudd are mainstays on the squad and according to Sonny, great things are expected of these men in future bouts.

Tech Matmen Lose to U of C

Superior Lightweight Tip Scales to Midway

The Tech matmen suffered a 21-11 defeat at the hands of the University of Chicago's wrestlers in their first matches of the current campaign. The bouts were held at Bartlett Gym on the Midway last Monday.

A pin and two decisions were given the Techmen to make up their 11 points. Leslie Gunner, 175 pounder, led the squad with 6 points, gained when he pinned U of C's Ishimaru in one minute and 52 seconds. Captain Bob Freund and heavyweight Bill Ezzell contributed three apiece by winning decisions in their respective divisions.

The longest bout of the evening was that which took place between IIT's Harry Twiekle and Joe Jaru of U of C in the 145 pound class. Twiekle battled on even terms through six minutes and eighteen seconds before the referee called a quick pin on him. In shifting his position, Harry's shoulders rolled across the canvas and the ref ruled that Jaru had pinned him.

A summary follows.
121 lb. division—Melek, U of C, pinned Leck, IIT, Time, 67 sec.; IIT—0, U of C—5.
135 lb.—Palmer, U of C, pinned Draper, IIT, Time, 2:59; IIT—0, U of C—5.
