Football problems at Tech

our lads have more difficult and time consuming jobs to obtain a B.S. degree than those in many other engineering colleges.

The records in the past show that a great number of our lads work part time to aid in defraying expenses through college. We are not a rich man's college. Approximately 85% of our students live off the campus and consume two hours of travel coming here and going home, while many students consume much more time in coming and going. Much of an engineer's time is spent in laboratory work in the afternoons from 2:10 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. Therefore, football practice for engineers coming from chemistry labs, physics labs, engineering labs, surveying classes, drawing classes, etc., must be held after 5:00 p.m. during week days.

We have no playing field for football.

We have no playing field for football. Ogden Field is not big enough for football. Even if it were, would the student body stand for eliminating the track and cross country ath-letics, the softball games, and touch football played in utumn?

It is essential that all men be out at a set time. It takes a half hour to go to the gymnasium, take off one's clothes, get a rub down, weigh in and put on football gear. It takes longer when men are injured and must be treated and taped up by a trainer or doctor. Yes, injured men hobble through the signals, practice and pantomine offense and defense, but the season is short and there is little sympathy for injured men. The coaches are dictatorial and impose strict military discipline to conserve time.

The squad is ready to practice at 5:30 p.m.—more often it would be 5:45 p.m. at half season, the delay due to attending injuries. At Tech a minimum of two and a half hours practice per day would be necessary, if our season started at the opening date of college. It would be eight p.m. when practice ceased. bones.

Finally, our lads would be homeward bound at 8:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.
They would arrive home from 9:30 to 10 p.m. Now, dear mother, night after night, would have to prepare sonny's dinner. It must be a big one. "Sonny boy" has not eaten since 12 noon; at 10 p.m., he will out-eat two lumberjacks. His stomach full at 10:30 p.m., tired, bruised and Sleepy, he must prepare his reports, write his themes, prepare for lectures, etc.—four to six hours minimum depending on what was accomplished during the day. It is between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m., and our darling must ob-tain 8 hours sleep—the doctor's and the coach's orders. His pro-fessors are not at all interested in prepare for lectures, etc .-- four to and the coach's orders. His pro-fessors are not at all interested in how much sleep one obtains, they want the necessary work done. How is "somy boy" going to get eight hours sleep, do his scholas-tic requirements honestly and be on time for his regularly scheduled classes? If he neglects football he is dropped from the squad. If he neglects his scholastic duties, and that is the real reason he is here, he is dropped from college.
