Hornet-Brown tickets added; Christenson takes first prize

by Larry Shapiro

Newest prize to be awarded to the embattled veterans of "Pigskin Prophets" is tickets to the final game of the season between the Chicago Hornets and the champions of the All-America conference, Paul Brown monsters, the Cleveland Browns.

Last week's contest came out as expected, a mess. The important final scores were: Tennessee Volunteers 35—Choo Choo Justice* University 6; Pittsburgh Panthers 22—Pennsylvania 21; Santa Clara 7—Stanford 7. The victims come again—the contestants of "Pigskin Prophets."

Some did pick Tennessee, and some did pick Pittsburgh, nobody picked the Santa Clara-Stanford deadlock, and nobody gave even nine right out of ten.

Bob Christenson, MBS, topped the list of entrants, to collect his COCA-COLA cooler filled with COCA-COLA, even though he failed on Pittsburgh and the west-coast tie. Christenson called the California-UCLA score right on the head and was only six points off on the Dartmouth rout of Yale.

Right on the heels of the champion came Jack Friedheim (the first freshman to land in the winners' circle) to haul away his Bear-Eagle ticket.

Third place and the Zippo lighter went to Ralph Kravis, senior CE. Jim Mason, seventh term ChE, pulled a bid to the Sophomore Dance (Autumn Leaves at the Congress Hotel, November 23) out of the hands of Marshall Stein, who in turn received a carton of CHESTERFIELD cigarettes for fifth place.

Sixth, seventh, and eighth places went to Mat Einecker, M. Maugeri, and Roy Gundersen, respectively. Each collected a carton of CHESTERFIELDS while Jack Hartig and L. J. Hubacek made off with a case of COCA-COLA apiece.

Last week's "board of experts" encountered the same troubles the contestants did, but we are undaunted and have come back to call the "winners" in tomorrow's games. "Your sad-eyed correspondent" topped the board last week with a .650 percentage.

Keep trying!

Fraternity Row

By Levy and Doppel

Another oddity reared its head to add more confusion to the football race, which has had more than its share of amazing happenings.

Sammies—O Daedalians—O

It seems that Sigman Alpha Mu and the Daedalians entered Monday's game with identical records of 1½ victories against the same number of defeats. The game was to decide which team would be matched against Delta Tau Delta in a battle for a semi-final berth. Both squads tossed the ball back and forth around midfield for two halves and the final result was a scoreless tie.

By Interfraternity rules, a tie counts as a half loss, so both teams were dropped and the Deltas gained an unexpected bye into the semi-finals.

Alpha Sigs—Delts

Looking at the playoffs from this angle, it looks like Alpha Sigma Phi and Delta Tau Delta in a tussle for a spot in the Slide Rule Bowl. The edge goes to the Alpha Sigs in a game that should be a thriller all the way if it materializes.

Basketball

With football heading into its final stages, the fraternity cagers are getting set for the coming basketball tournament. The gym is being used for nightly practices—most of the teams are looking much better than last year's squads, and the basketball race should prove quite a tussle for the championship cup.
