of the ID class granted an ex-officio seat on ITSA. The student body of the Institute of Design will be considered a semi-dependent organ of the ITSA.

At a preliminary meeting last week, ITSA members, meeting as a committee of the all, discussed control of social functions. A plan creating a social chairmen's committee composed of the social chairman of each class, and headed by a member of ITSA was adopted. The function of the committee is to run the Integral Ball and the Junior Prom and possibly one other off campus dance. Profits from these affairs will be divided on a pro rata basis among the classes.

The committee is authorized to approve the dates and budgets of all social functions run by dependent organizations.

News in Brief

Ed Jantho, president of the Bowling league, announced that there are several openings for new bowlers. The league bowls Monday nights, from 6 to 8:30 at the Archer Recreation, 35th street and Archer. Interested persons should sign their names on the paper provided on the North or South Union bulletin boards. A high average is not necessary. Both men and women are invited to join.

Three four-year scholarships in chemical engineering are to be offered by the Consolidated Natural Gas Systems Educational Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio, to begin in September, 1950.

The scholarships emphasize gas engineering and technology in the student's fourth year, with special courses at the Institute of Gas Technology. The scholarships will include full tuition, fees and books.

Single and double rooms are now available in Farr and Fowler halls. Interested persons should contact the Admissions office.

IIT's Chess club reported results of matches held between semesters.

They defeated Northwestern 4½ to 1½ and trimmed Navy Pier 6-0, but bowed to Roosevelt college, 1½ to 4½.

U. of Chicago undergrads will meet them at Triangle fraternity house on campus Sunday afternoon, February 26, at 4 p.m.
