

For the first time since the Bauhaus came to Chicago, all ID alumni and friends have come together to share with each other their years of experience. Today you will see how ID has changed—and how it hasn't. And just as important, you'll find out how your friends and colleagues have changed—and how they haven't. But above and beyond anything—have fun!