

Child of the Light, whose daytime bides
O'er quiet streams and whelming tides,
Thou walkest in the Light divine,
Where sage and saint for friends are thine.