

Not only will the Institute feel the inspiration of its new environments, but the new campus will lend an attractiveness to the entire neighborhood.

Never before in the history of this country has there been recorded so large an individual gift for such a purpose. Upon the Faculty, the students and the Alumni of Armour Institute of Technology rests a great responsibility. Let us preserve and further extend and perfect that which has been so well built upon the noble benefactions of Mr. P. D. Armour, and carried on so magnanimously by his wife and son.

HOWARD M. RAYMOND.
