

B. S. in A.

HERMAN D. ROLLER

Country Estate for a Wealthy American Family.
Born August 15, 1893, at New York City, New York.
Armour Scientific Academy, '10.
Omega Lambda; Tau Beta Pi; Alpha Delta Tau; Atelier;
Massier Class Atelier, '10-'11; Class Secretary, '11-'12; Junior Social Committee, '12-'13; CYCLE Committee, '12.
Herman's strong points are architecture and fussing. His favorites, "Guess I'll hand in a small sketch" and "I wish I had a job."

NATHAN KOENIGSBERG

A Civic Pier.
Born April 7, 1890, at Semeplair, Russia.
Peabody School, Chicago, Illinois.
"Count" thinks that valuable goods often come in small packages. Everyone suspects that he is deeply in love, because of his far-away expression. Come, "Count," tell us who she is.

CHESTER E. H. WOLFLEY

A National Conservatory of Music.
Born November 18, 1892, at Chicago, Illinois.
Rockford, Illinois, High School, '10.
Omega Lambda; Tau Beta Pi; Atelier; Y. M. C. A.;
Class Basketball, '10; Social Chairman Atelier, '13-'14;
Purchasing Agent, '12-'14; Junior Play Cast and Property man; Architects Play, Cast and Manager.
"Chuster," although about the busiest man in the architectural department by reason of his offices, manages to draw first mentions and a goodly number of "A" grades. He is noted for his ability to keep things moving.

FREDERICK McC. ISENSEE

An Interurban Station in a Large City.
Born March 24, 1892, at Edwardsville, Illinois.
Edwardsville High School, '09.
Atelier.
McIsensee is easily the best plugger among the Senior architects. He has been unanimously elected chief steward of the Atelier every year. His hobbies are railroads, street car rides and the collection of architectural literature.

LODTHARDT M. JENSEN

A Burial Ground
Born January 11, 1892, at Vejle, Finland.
Omaha, Nebraska, High School, '10.
Atelier.
Lodthardt, alias "The Flirting Finn," is our sole advocate of post-futurism. Voluntarily took an elective course in Calculus under "Doc" Campbell and received an "A." Nough said.
