

ORGANIZATIONS

THE STAFF

WM. V. LINDBLOM, '15	Editor-in-Chief
E. G. ZACK, '14	Business Manager
L. J. McHUGH, '16	Managing Editor
DR. G. L. SCHERGER	Advisory Editor
CHARLES R. SIMMONS, '15	Engineers' Column
JOEL POMERENE, '14	Just News
E. M. KRATZ, '15	Social
A. S. ALTER, '16	Athletics
FRED FARRAR, '14	Who's Who and Why
GEO. TRINKAUS, '15	Exhaust
J. L. SHANE, '14	Architecture

CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

DeCELLE, '14

SHAFFER, '15

OTT, '16

WATT, '17

The "Fulcrum" having again been brought to a sound financial basis by the staff of 1912-13, this year's staff took up the work just where the previous one had left off, and pursued much the same policy—to record accurately all the happenings in the college, and to print information of general college interest, to provide a medium for the expression of opinions, and to give opportunity for the publication of original writings, of nearly any nature, in order to stimulate and encourage the faculties of our student engineers.

Success has been granted us to a large extent in the pursuance of the last phase of the above policy, many articles of varying types having been published.

The general style of the paper has been maintained, with the following exceptions. A standard cover was adopted throughout the year, and handset box headings were freely used in the body of the paper, making a more pleasing appearance. The department of "Tech Tachs" was assimilated by that of the "exhaust," since they were of much the same nature and edited by the same man.

The management has been able to dispose of a number of copies equal to approximately fifty-six percent of the college enrollment, a common percentage.