

ATHLETICS

firsts and five seconds, and the gameness of her boys was certainly splendid. Time and again it looked as though we were beaten in some particular event, when that inevitable never-say-die spirit would rise up in our team and give us the victory. In the broad jump, Katzy showed them all how to hop.

The fourth and last meet, when Naperville invaded Chicago, saw the Tech come off with the heavy end of a $76\frac{1}{2}$ to $49\frac{1}{2}$ score. Alter showed of what stuff he was made by taking a first in the 100 and a second in the 220. Altogether, our athletes got eight first places and eleven seconds, showing a wonderful improvement over the first meet.

The fellows on the team deserve great credit for the way they stuck at their work. In the Little Five Conference meet held at Lake Forest, Armour drew fourth place, with Knox first, Lake Forest second and Beloit third. The Tech team scored three firsts, one second and one third. The winners of first place were Katzinger in the broad jump, Barr in the high jump, and Johnson in the pole vault. McKeage came out second in the hammer throw, and Kopald third in the same event.
