

It's All in the Point of View.

It certainly is queer what a difference the point of view makes. No persons of average dimensions will deny that the sight of a rotund gentleman being precipitated to a position of stable equilibrium is a mirth-provoking spectacle; some go so far as to find it a source of side-splitting laughter; and others find tears of joy welling to their orbs under such circumstances. And yet it is quite possible that the aforementioned corpulent party may see a darkly serious side to such a trivial thing as a bursted pair of galluses, or a broken leg.

Mexican Athletics have attained a high degree of popularity during the past year. Notable among those qualifying for the degree of B. S. in this branch of our activities are:

Oldenberg,
Finklestein,
"Duke" Cooban,
Grossman,
Sullivan (Tom)
Sullivan (Joe)
Alter,
De Las Casas.

There were no honorary degrees conferred.

"I Ama Pappa."
