

We laugh at all the teachers' jokes,
No matter what they be,
We never laugh because they're witty,
But because it's policy.

Fierce lessons
Late hours
Unexpected callers
Nothing prepared
Knocked standing.

You have oft this volume opened
And found without surprise,
That the lines that soon will follow
Were again before your eyes.

I claim I cannot but abhor,
The things in my chem book, what e'er they be,
Will always be to me, a chem myst'ry.

Intoxicated man, after bumping into the same tree thirteen times, "Lost, in an impenetrable forest."

Dean Monin in Economics speaking upon the development of force and that force is measured only by resistance said: "Some night you may have to call off a big party with some girl just to study for a quiz. Cheer up, don't grumble, that quiz was a gift from the Lord." (It might be at that, depending on the girl.)
