

WM. A. HEITNER

Born July 5, 1897, Chicago, Ill.
Tilden Technical High School.

"A Proposed Design of a Hydraulic Laboratory for the Greater A. I. T."

T. B. II., A. S. M. E. (Secretary, '21),
Y. M. C. A., Asst. Class Treasurer,
'21, Junior Play, Pin and Ring
Committee, Cycle Staff, '20.

"Bill" is a regular fellow and has established himself as a favorite among his classmates and is a friend worth winning. He is the "Mark Twain" of the class and keeps it in good humor with his ready smile and jovial disposition. He is a true Ar-mourite, as shown by his scholastic standing and his support of Armour activities.

ALFRED C. HOVEN.

Born October 6, 1898; Chicago, Ill.
Englewood High School.

"Design of a Refrigeration Plant for the Greater A. I. T."

Σ. K. Δ.; A. S. M. E.

"Al" came back from service with the U. S. Coast Guard and made as many new friends among the present Senior class as he must have had in the one that graduated while he was away. In spite of constant exposure to the refrigeration department he has made many warm acquaintances that will last for years.
