Milt is another of those quiet unassuming chaps who can always see the practical side of everything. If you want to know anything about "Buicks" just ask Milt. Because of his easy going ways and goodness of heart he has made a lot of friends. He has a new joke to tell you every time he sees you.

FLETCHER EUGENE HAYDEN

Born August 25, 1899, Franklinville, N. Y.

"Industrial Lighting Survey of the City of Chicago, Illinois."

Ω. A.; H. K. N.; T. B. II.; Corresponding Sec., Y. M. C. A.; A. I. E. E.; Class Treas., 1918-19 and 1919-20; Social Committee, 1920-21; Program Committee; Advertising Manager, 1920 "Cycle"; Business Manager, "The Armour Engineer," 1920-21.

"Fletch" is one of the few who after having been discharged from the S. A. T. C., was elected a class officer, and anyone who was ever in the service can imagine what a fine fellow he must have been to attain such a distinction. Aside from being one of the best liked fellows in school, "Fletch" was active in all school affairs, and when it came to the ladies, he was there with bells. His favorite query is, "Have you got that dollar yet?"
