

The Junior Prom

Held

May 6th, 1921

At the

BLACKSTONE HOTEL

in the

Crystal Ballroom

This was THE dance of THE year. Maguire thought he'd make this the prom of proms and he surely did and then some. As a starter Bob announced that the dance was to be held at the Blackstone and as a second persuader, it was to be from 9 till 1, and with a double orchestra all the way. So you can just about imagine what this really meant. It proved to be Armour's biggest and best of the year and of many years. The crowd just about got inside the promised land, and if there had been many more we would have moved the floor out into Grant Park, the orchestra along with it. We all waited patiently for this night and our patience was rewarded beyond expectations when we started to jig at this hop. The whole crew was there from A to Z. This year the date of this annual event was May the 6th, and if the weather were made to order it couldn't have been better, so all in all, mostly all in about one, we had a time we shall always remember.
