READ HOW THE JUNIOR PROM AFFECTED ONE PATRON.

DEAR BILL:

Ahhhhh! and a couple of more ahs. This was the bee's knees, etc. You couldn't guess where this one was staged. Where? Why what the ———! I should say not. Corner of Seventh and Michigan, otherwise recognized as the Blackstone, oui, oui. And did she like it? I'm not sayin' a word lad. This was THE dance of THE year, and it made me so reckless that I nearly gave away the new Wrigley Building, before I realized that I had already donated the Drake Hotel, Masonic Temple, and a few more of my suddenly acquired possessions to the founding of a Home for Starving Fleas and Feeble Microbes, if you know what I mean.

As Noah Webster didn't say, "A polished floor, a knockout orchestra, and thou." All that you had to bring was the "thou," the rest was there.

Robert Reginald Maguire, otherwise known as "Lightning," "Speed," and "T. N. T.," was the goat. I say the goat because to run this dance with all its this and thats one had to be the goat from start to finish. Therefore be it resolved that Robert Reginald Maguire, a student of the Armour Institute of Technology, be dubbed Knight of the Taffy Covered Ingersol, and be presented with the cast iron earmuffs, "as a token of our esteem." Oh, gosh! I just remembered. I still owe somebody nearly five smackers because of this hop. In spring a young man's fancy turns to ———. Oh, anyway, to make a short story long, it all happened on the 6th of May. Had a double orchestra, and stayed till one. I mean the dance y'understand. Well it's almost time I were turning in so I'm afraid I will have to close for the time being. With love to all,

Sincerely,

AL.

P. S. Hope you are all well and will expect to hear from you soon.
