"Eef" did so much of his Senior work in his Freshman and Sophomore years that about all he has to do these days is to play the piano, talk radio, and practice drawing free-hand circles on the blackboard. Drawing and calculus were his favorite subjects until this year, when he found that keeping the frequency of an alternator constant was more to his liking. "Hersk" is known for his good humor and playful pranks.

In Fred is displayed that pleasing combination of personality, business ability, and sound technical training which all of us strive for. Being master of a lake going canoe, sailing the vicinity of Wilson Beach, Fred naturally lined up with the S. N. T. C. during his first days at Armour, and reports indicate that he was some "gob." However, he made the biggest hit of his school career when, as Chairman of the Senior Social Committee, he successfully engineered the first Armour dance ever held at the Drake Hotel.
