Wing is our chubby-faced friend from the East who has favored more than one of us with a fine feed at his dad's chop suey emporium. He would have graduated two years ago if he had not decided to take a trip to France during the war to establish lines of communication in No Man's Land. By his good fellowship, as well as excellent scholarship, he has earned his way into two honorary fraternities, and we feel certain that success awaits him wherever he next decides to travel. "Correct. Sit down."
