DANA ROYCE HYDE

Born September 19, 1900, Greenville, Mich.
Hyde Park High School.

Tau Beta Pi; W. S. E.

Treasurer, W. S. E., 1921-22. Senior Program Committee. Gold Champion, 1920.

Hyde was our original "Dude of Marmalade." He was born with an unsatiable desire to take Calculus and it clung to him for quite a period. His hobby is golf and his games with Professor Palmer have gone into the pages of history. It is also common knowledge that Hyde Park was named after him. The source of his other two handles is inconceivable. As treasurer of the W. S. E. he accomplished the usual aim of all treasurers—to make a nuisance of themselves.

SAMUEL ISAACSON

Born November 1, 1899, Chicago, Illinois.
Wendell Phillips High School.

Rho Delta Rho; W. S. E.

"Bill" finished his work in February and since then has been living the life of an Engineer and social lion. He did a year's work in his last semester at Armour, and yet was the best "concrete" man of his class. He can expound the theories of Freud and of Spence as well as he can design reinforced concrete.
