

CLASSES

LEONARD EMIL ERLANDSON

Chicago, June 1, 1896.

Chemical Engineering.

A. Ch. E. S.

One's impression of L. E. is that of a mild and kindly nature. And one is not at all disappointed. Tinged slightly with a pleasing gravity, Erlandson looks at the world with a tolerance and understanding. One thing L. E. is not—he is not a he vamp. He treats the gentler sex with his customary politeness and tolerance. Girls, he is a most desirable type for a husband, yet very difficult to impress. You must be an artist. Somewhat quiet, always ready to help; we are very happy to have him as a friend.

HYMAN H. GERSTEIN

New York, N. Y., December 24, 1900.

Chemical Engineering.

Lane Tech. High School.

Rho Delta Rho; A. Ch. E. S.

Y. M. C. A.

Interclass Basketball, '21.

See whether he has it on or not. Hyman is one of those fellows who looks well with a mustache, although one is not necessary to make him look that way. Hyman does not force himself on one's mind's eye but he is good to look at and congenial to talk with. Knowing him from his high school days up, we will say that he is a steady, dependable person. It is very desirable to be his friend.

