

"Good day, ma'am, I am a cast off clothing dealer."

Prof.'s Wife—"Good, have you anything to fit my husband?"

Freshman (after receiving a flunk notice)—"Hooray, I just got a ticket to a grave-digger's dance."

Bissell—"And you say you were the first one to tell that joke?"

Chapin—"I sure do."

Bissell—"You don't look your age."

Sloan: "I hear some of these profs. lead a fast life."

Wheeler: "I doubt it; none of 'em passed me this year."

"Husband," said the professor's wife suspiciously.

"Yes, my dear?"

"Who is this Violet Ray you are always talking about?"

Heard in the Senior Elect. Class:

Prof. Clifford: "Bursik, what is the means by which electricity is conducted?"

Bursik (sleepily): "Why—er—"

Prof. Clifford: "Correct. Now what is the unit of power in electricity?"

Bursik: "The what?"

Prof. Clifford: "Very good."

Farmer: "See here, young feller, what are you doing up in that tree?"

Mason: "One of your pears fell down and I'm putting it back."

Maggie: "The garbage man is here, Sor."

Prof. (from deep thought): "My! My! Tell him we don't want any."

Prof. Miser (to Algebrat): "Did you get that 42 problem correct?"

Algebrat: "Yes, sir, better than that; I'm $666 to the good."

Prof. Clarr: "What is an apostrophe?"

Frosh: "It's a comma stuck up in the air."

First Frosh: "What course do you expect to graduate in?"

Second Frosh: "In the course of time."
