

In Memoriam

Edwin Arthur Lommen

The summer of 1924 saw the death of one of the best men in the Class of '25. "Art" Lommen was a man of high ideals who talked but little and did much. He was a man of action who would not wait for others to do things, but would do them himself. He could always put himself in the other man's place and thus arrive at just decisions which preserved and strengthened friendships. He was not a brilliant scholar, but had the perseverance and the will to learn. Truly, he was a man of whom the Engineering Profession, Armour Institute, and his classmates might well have been proud. There is great regret in the hearts left behind.
