Since the organization of the Beta Chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers at Armour Institute in the fall of 1923, it has made its strong purpose to secure as many speakers, prominent in the Chemical Profession, as possible. A list of those men who have addressed the Chapter within the last academic year follows:—

Prof. Harry McCormack, of Armour Institute, "Opportunities for Chemical Engineers."

William Hoskins, of Mariner & Hoskins, "The Outlook for Chemists and Engineers."

Otto Eisenschimmel, of The Scientific Oil Compounding Co., "Chemistry as a Business Career."

Carl S. Miner, of The Miner Laboratories, "Furfural—The Story of an Industrial Problem."

Dr. David Klein, of the Wilson Laboratories, "Glandular Therapy."

Albert R. Brunker, of the Liquid Carbonic Co., "Education."

Prof. Benjamin B. Freud, of Armour Institute, "The Cardinal Precepts of the Chemical Engineering Profession."

J. C. Ingram, of the Cealite Products Co., "The Selection and Operation of Filtration Equipment."

Walter B. Brown, Vice-President of the Victor Chemical Works, "Phosphate in the Food Industry."

F. E. Gardner, President of the Gardner-Barada Chemical Co., "Everyday Opportunities for the Chemical Engineer."

The first social affair of the year was a Smoker given at the Phi Pi Phi House on the Evening of December 17, 1924. The entertainment of the evening was furnished by Professor Wallace B. Amsbary, the "rubber apron" Armour Orchestra, and the Chemical Engineering Glee Club.

On Wednesday evening, April 22nd, The Armour Branch revived an old tradition by holding a banquet at the City Club. In recent years it has been neglected but due to the general enthusiasm, it has been decided to have one such event each year in the future. The attendance was large and included a number of professors and alumni.
