ARMOUR TECH ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Charles J. Plocar, President

The primary objects of this association are to promote athletics and co-operation between the various activities of the student body. The principles that are laid down in the constitution are being carried out and the new problems arising are being taken care of in the best possible manner; binding the student body into a more unified group of men.

Perhaps the most important discussion during the last two years has been that of the adoption of the Freshman Rule. This discussion was brought about mainly by those men participating in the minor sports. These men encountered difficulties in securing competitive meets with other colleges due to this ruling, which states that no man who is in his first year at the college may compete in the inter-collegiate athletics. By the adoption of this rule, games could be secured with colleges who now have this ruling. This would, obviously, bar all Freshmen from representing the Armour Institute of Technology on the field of competitive sport. It is hoped that this rule will be adopted in the near future and that Armour will be in a position to compete with any college in athletics.

Infinite power lies within the reach of the Armour Tech Athletic Association, in the creation of a true college spirit, when backed by the entire student body.
