

HONORARY FRATERNITIES

Armour Chapter of Chi Epsilon

Chi Epsilon is a national honorary civil engineering fraternity founded at the University of Illinois in 1922. The Armour Chapter was chartered in 1923. The purpose of the fraternity is to honor those civil engineering students who deserve recognition for their accomplishments at college. Members are chosen from the upper third of the Junior and Senior class. The requisites for membership are scholarship, sociability, practicability and character.

In the past year Chi Epsilon has had the great pleasure of initiating Dean Monin as an honorary member. The initiation banquet was held at the Allerton Club on May 26, 1925. On December 17, a banquet was held at the Palmer House. At this banquet three members of the Senior Class were admitted to the fraternity.

During the past year the Active Members have held many meetings which will always bring to them pleasant memories of good fellowship.
