Baseball 1925

Coach—W. C. Krafft

Captain—Lawrence E. Burke

Manager—Joseph M. Kovarick

The Baseball team coached by Bill Krafft came thru a fairly good season last year. The men could not seem to get together the first few games, but after they hit their stride they delivered the victories. It should be mentioned at this point that three scheduled games which Tech would undoubtedly have won had to be called off on account of weather conditions.

One of the high lights of the year was the remarkable comeback of the team after the Columbia game at Dubuque in which they lost. When the return game was played here two days later Armour won in an 11 inning game.

One of the great handicaps of the team is the lack of good pitchers. It does seem regrettable that pitchers do not seem to care for Engineering as a profession. However we'll struggle along thru the 1926 season and try and show the old fight as usual. The team will miss several members who are now graduates.
