ABSENCE MAKES THE MARKS GROW ROUNDER

WIFE OF 43 ADMITS
SLAYING

New Haven, Conn. — A Trans-Siberian flyer was wrecked near here today when a lady train dispatcher could not find her false hair, and was late to work. A misplaced switch was given as the cause of the accident by officials of the railroad.

DIRTY WORK
SOMEWHERE

Pittsburgh, Penn. June 1/2, 1926 — (By special Fruit-growers dispatch that came clean from Pittsburgh)—As far as our correspondent could see, an aeroplane went up in smoke here today.

According to press dispatches from Paris, Cairo and Peoria. European nations are negotiating a pact to secure pacts securing the security pact.

THE WEATHER

Even though the rain keeps up it comes down. Fair today, probably followed by tomorrow. Darker towards night and 33rd Street. Temperatures (Hoskins pyrometers used exclusively): High—46 degrees, low—53 degrees, average—64 degrees.

HOW DID THEY DUET?

St. Louis—In the spring floods that have recently swollen the Mississippi, Linn O. Leum, of Storm Center, was caught in the stream and carried for some distance before being rescued. He managed to keep afloat by grabbing onto a big bass violin that happened to drift by. His wife accompanied him on the piano.

Wes Miller, while pushing the pellet around Jackson Park this spring, was arrested for reckless driving.

Copeandragen, Denmark, Sat., May 35, 1926—International Foundrymen's Association held their daily meeting here tomorrow. This truck stops at all railroad crossings, if a train is coming. A large crowd was on hand to watch the balloon ascension. Flying Ebony got a good start, but Ray Schalk nipped him at second with a perfect peg. She will be at home at 0.000A2 Walla Walla St., Waco, Wyoming, or is it Texas? after Junember 32, 1926.
