

We cannot hope to honor this man because his is no earthly praise. We do not attempt to eulogize his life, for his place in industry, his many charities, his generosity to educational enterprises, have all done so far beyond our power. It is simply as to a friend that we reverently dedicate this book to the spirit and memory of
J. Ogden Armour