

in 1891 the corner stone to the main building of Armour Institute was laid. The building was opened in 1893 with classes for both young men and women. Later engineering was stressed—