

HEATH, BANTA, PAUL, SITZLER, RASMUSSEN
JUNIOR WEEK 1929

J. GARTH SITZLER, Junior Marshal
Assistant Marshals

DEAN BANTA, DONALD PAUL, PRESTON E. HEATH, FRED RASMUSSEN

Saturday—Circus Day—and of course the day the weather man would develop a grudge against Armour's doings. Had a poet been at Ogden Field he could have written one of those melancholy masterpieces of the lowering skies and the cold grey mist.

As the time for the Freshman-Sophomore Sack Rush drew near, there was consternation in both camps. The Frosh had been crowing all day over the fact that they had succeeded in abducting the Sophomore leader, Frank James. James, however, managed to reach the scene in time to lead his army into battle. But the wiser sophomores merely seized Maynard Venema, the Freshman leader, at the gate to Ogden Field, shoved him into a car and roared away at full speed.

The combined facts that the Freshmen needed no leader, and the Sophomores had not learned the lesson of numbers, brought victory to the green-shirted warriors.

Next came the Fraternity Pageant, the various stunts being unique and excellently performed. Phi Kappa Sigma's presentation of "A Faculty Banquet" was judged the winner of the Circus Day Skin by the judges and spectators.

