

W. K. SIMPSON

ARMOUR TECH ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

A group of students, in the spring of 1922, foreseeing the need for student representation in school affairs, organized the Armour Tech Athletic Association.

The object, in the constitution, brings out very clearly the purpose of this organization in school affairs. In brief, this is to develop a unified Armour spirit, systematize all interclass relations and privileges. It serves as a medium between student body and faculty. It has full privilege of investigating the management of any student activity, fostering mass meetings, promoting inter-fraternity athletics, stimulating interest in athletic contests, assisting the athletic department in arranging schedules, receiving and caring for visiting teams, and directing and managing all affairs which properly fall under such an organization.

The management of the A. T. A. A. rests with the Board of Athletic Control, which consists of the college executives, three members of the faculty, the officers of the A. T. A. A., a representative of the Freshman class and a finance committee.

The organization has brought about many desirable changes in the school.

For the last three years it awarded ten Honor Cycles to the ten outstanding men of the senior class upon graduation. Scholarship, activity, and personality were the deciding factors in choosing these men.