

The next day Y. M. C. A. College was overwhelmed 17-1 at the University of Chicago. Stehno held them helpless for seven innings and did not allow a man to reach first. Graham and Cannell finished the game and "Y" College finally got a solitary hit and run.

The De Kalb game proved to be another track meet when Armour won 24-11. The engineers gathered nineteen hits in this game and everyone but the bat boy saw action.

On May 8th Stehno added another to his string of victories when Northwestern was defeated 7-6. In this game Link was injured and laid up for the rest of the season when a man slid into him at home plate. A ligament in his left leg was torn loose and it was necessary to rush him to the hospital. Link was the mainstay of the backstoppers and his loss was keenly felt.
