

in the trustees room of the administration building were formulated the plans which were constantly advanced for the crystallization of our modern creative spirit.

from the library of the minds of our own directors comes the store of knowledge and experience gained from the past, and the vision into the time to be.