

as the secondary character supports the star, so does the broad wheat field of the northwest furnish sustenance to our great nation, and so does the junior augment his store of present knowledge for use when the position of star or veteran has been attained.