

song and story were not absent even from the little log fortress at the mouth of our famous river which now, through the ingenuity of the engineer flows a backward course.