

by day the shiny sun furnishes the light in which we view the world in its' glory; by night electricity illuminates its parts; similarly, athletic leaders are the operators who focus the beams of fair play and good sportsmanship upon the game.