

The combined efforts of Neal and Faust netted almost half of Armour's points. Neal led the duo with  $14\frac{1}{4}$  points, coming from firsts in the 60-yard dash and broad jump, and a second in the 440-yard run, while Faust turned in ten with easy victories in the mile and two-mile runs. In both of the latter Faust stepped into an early lead and, with his fast, untiring pace, steadily widened this advantage, and in both cases won by a margin of about 60 yards. The old Tech stand-by, the relay, saw Neal even up matters with Warwick, who had outrun him in the 440-yard run. It was close down the stretch, with Armour trailing until Dunbar, Armour's third man, took away Loyola's lead. Neal stepped out and, after repelling Warwick's spurts, finished out in front by five yards.

On March 6, for the second time this season, Armour Tech's track team defeated South Side Junior College by scoring 55 points to their 49 at the University of Chicago Field House. Neal, leading the field with over 16 points, showed his heels to the opponents by winning the first two events, the 60-yard dash and the grueling 440-yard run. He also won the broad jump and helped along in the winning sprint medley. The third event, the 880, was taken nicely by an Armour freshman, Finnegan. Keeping just behind field, he saved his strength till the last 100 yards, when he speeded up and swept by Dominique, who was leading, to win easily. Dominique came back for his share of the glory, however, in the mile run, leading Faust of Armour all the way.

In the hurdle events the home squad had to be content with a second and two thirds, Zayner of South Side winning both events. Armour retaliated in the high jump when Simeon, in his first meet this season, topped the bar at 5 feet 8 inches to win first place, and Bejcek was close behind to take second. Simeon also put on the strong-arm act to take second in the shot-put. Pole vault honors went to the local lads, too. Captain Concolino went up over 10 feet 6 inches to win, and one of his teammates, Dixon, placed second. To win the meet it was necessary that Armour take the last event, the sprint medley, and this they did with ease. Neuert, the first man, was lagging a little behind when he gave the baton to Ryan, who held his own and even gained a little yardage. Dunbar, racing third, pulled himself up ahead by  $1\frac{1}{2}$  yards and passed the stick to Neal, who continued ahead to win by 10 yards and capture the meet by six points.

In the last scheduled meet of the indoor season, on March 12, Armour lost to its rival, North Central, because it faced a much stronger team. It put up a good showing, nevertheless, considering that in 1935 it was defeated to the tune of  $75\frac{2}{3}$  to  $28\frac{1}{3}$ . This time the score was 59 to 45. The Tech cindermen took first places in the 60-yard dash, mile, all places in the 440-yard run, and tied for first in the high jump and pole vault. McDonald returned, after being unable to compete in previous meets because of a leg injury, to win the quarter-mile. Simeon proved himself valuable in his second appearance by tying for first in the high jump, and getting third-place honors in the shot-put. Neal was high-point man for Armour again with eleven points.

SCHEDULE 1935-36

Date	Opponent	Opponent's Score	Armour
February 7	South Side Junior College.....	49	55
February 15	Chicago University, Loyola.....	64, 23	32
February 21	Loyola University .....	$43\frac{1}{2}$	$60\frac{1}{2}$
March 6	South Side Junior College.....	48	56
March 12	North Central College.....	59	45