

Pretty Boy's Face Being Lifted

Break It Off, Pat!

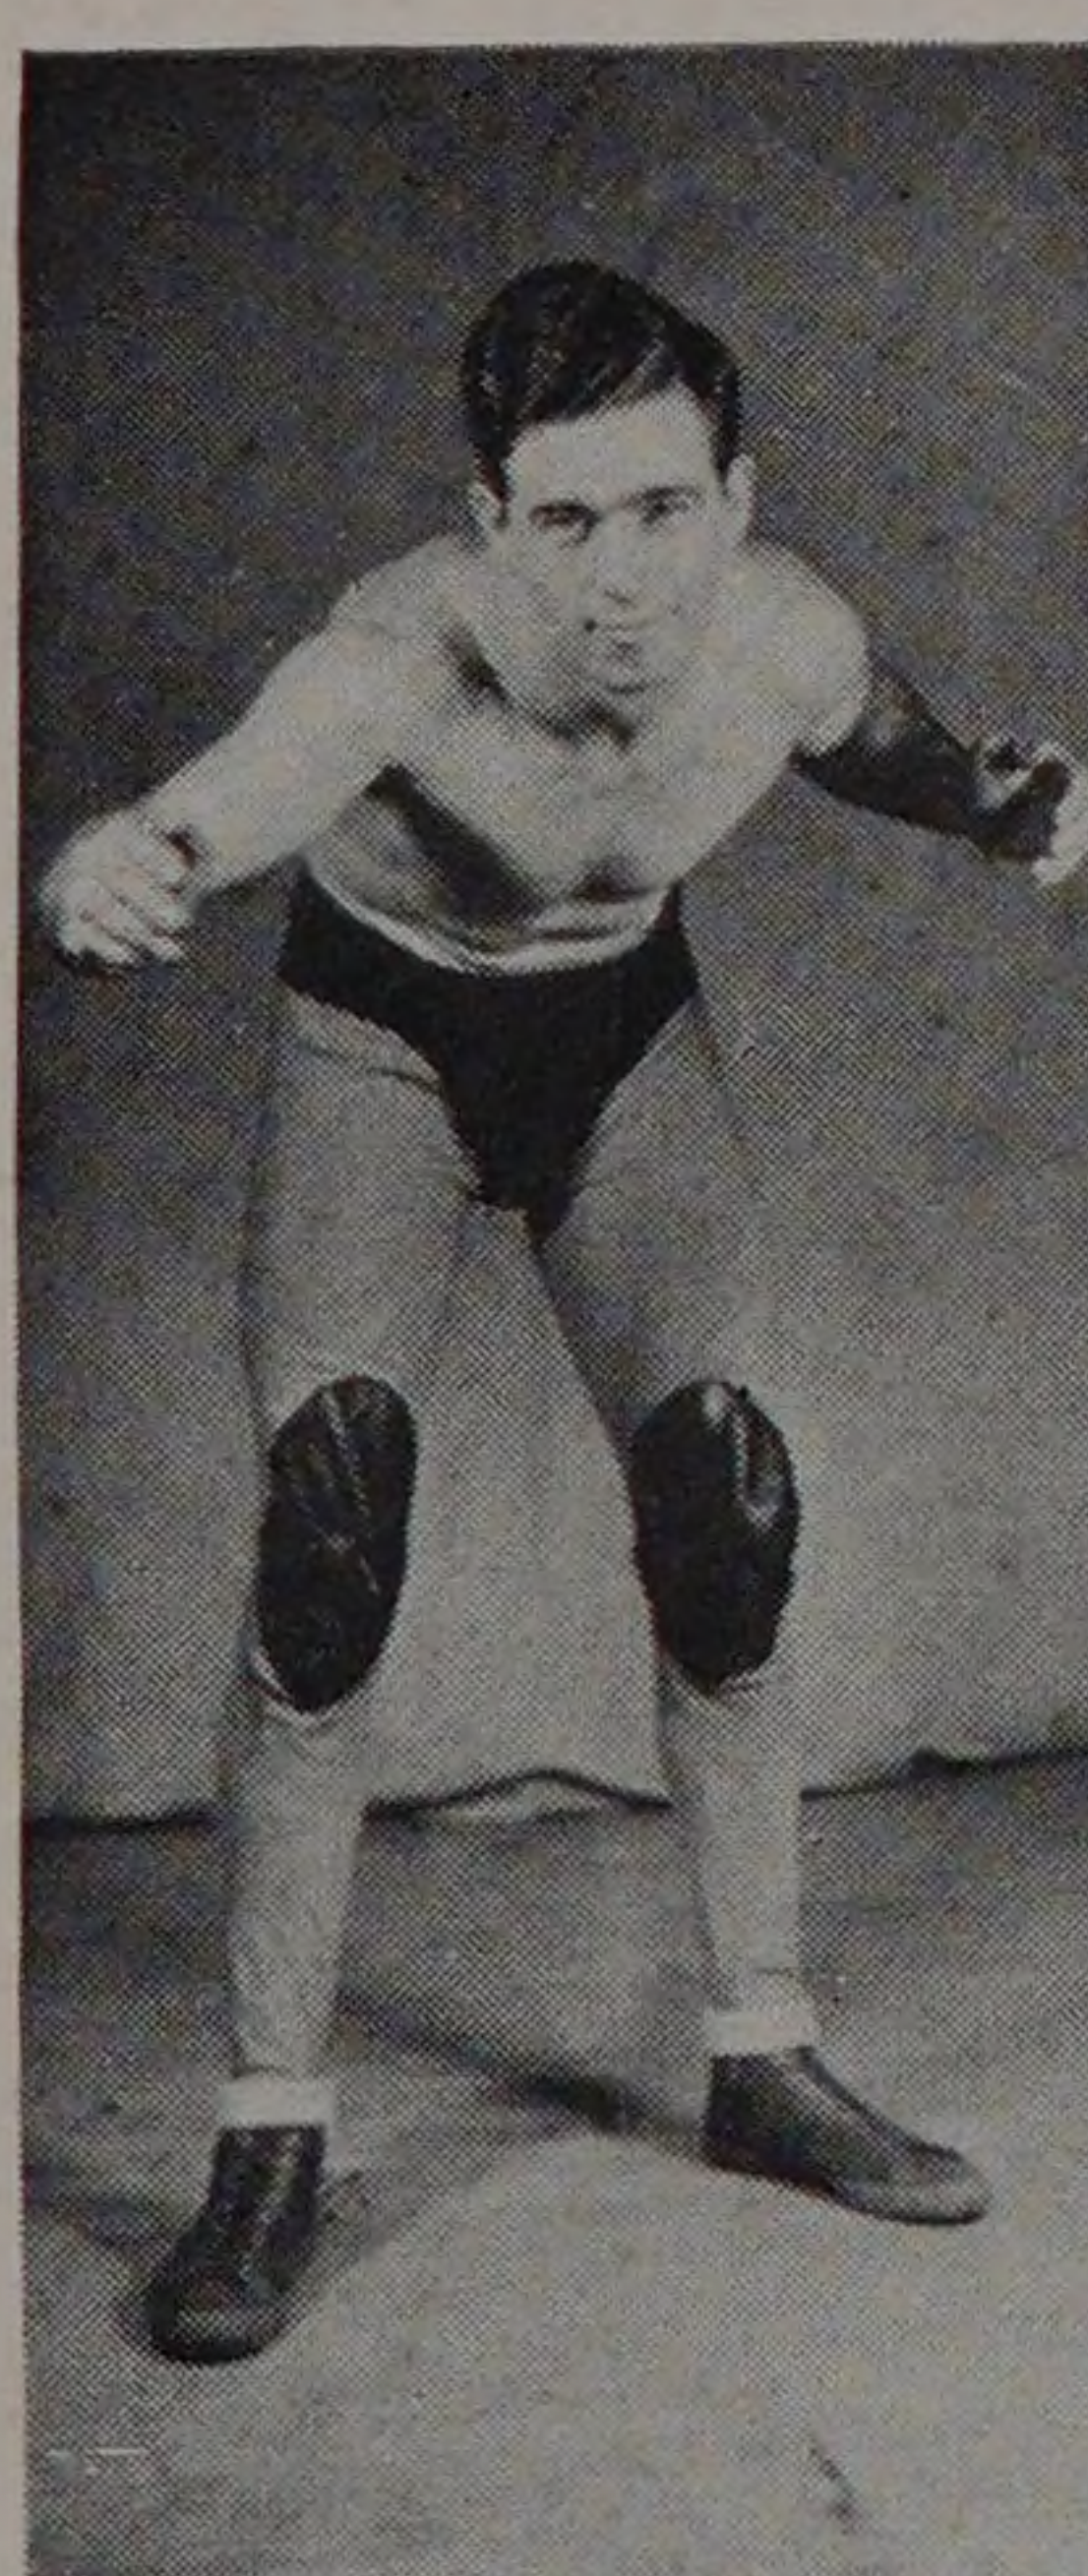

Look Out Below!

The season opened inauspiciously with a defeat by the Lincoln-Belmont Y. M. C. A. This loss was not hardfelt since the Lincoln-Belmont squad holds the state Y. M. C. A. championship. The next bout, with Morton, was an overwhelming victory for Tech, with Morton's only win in the 125-pound class.

The third bout, with Chicago, was well fought, and, although the Techawks had visions of downing the Maroons again, they were doomed to disappointment, and had to be satisfied with a single victory by forfeit in the 135-pound class. The North Central meet was the first one out of town, and was a very satisfactory and hard-fought victory. Schmidt's bout was by far the most interesting. It was a case of superior skill against strength, but the Techawk skill won out.

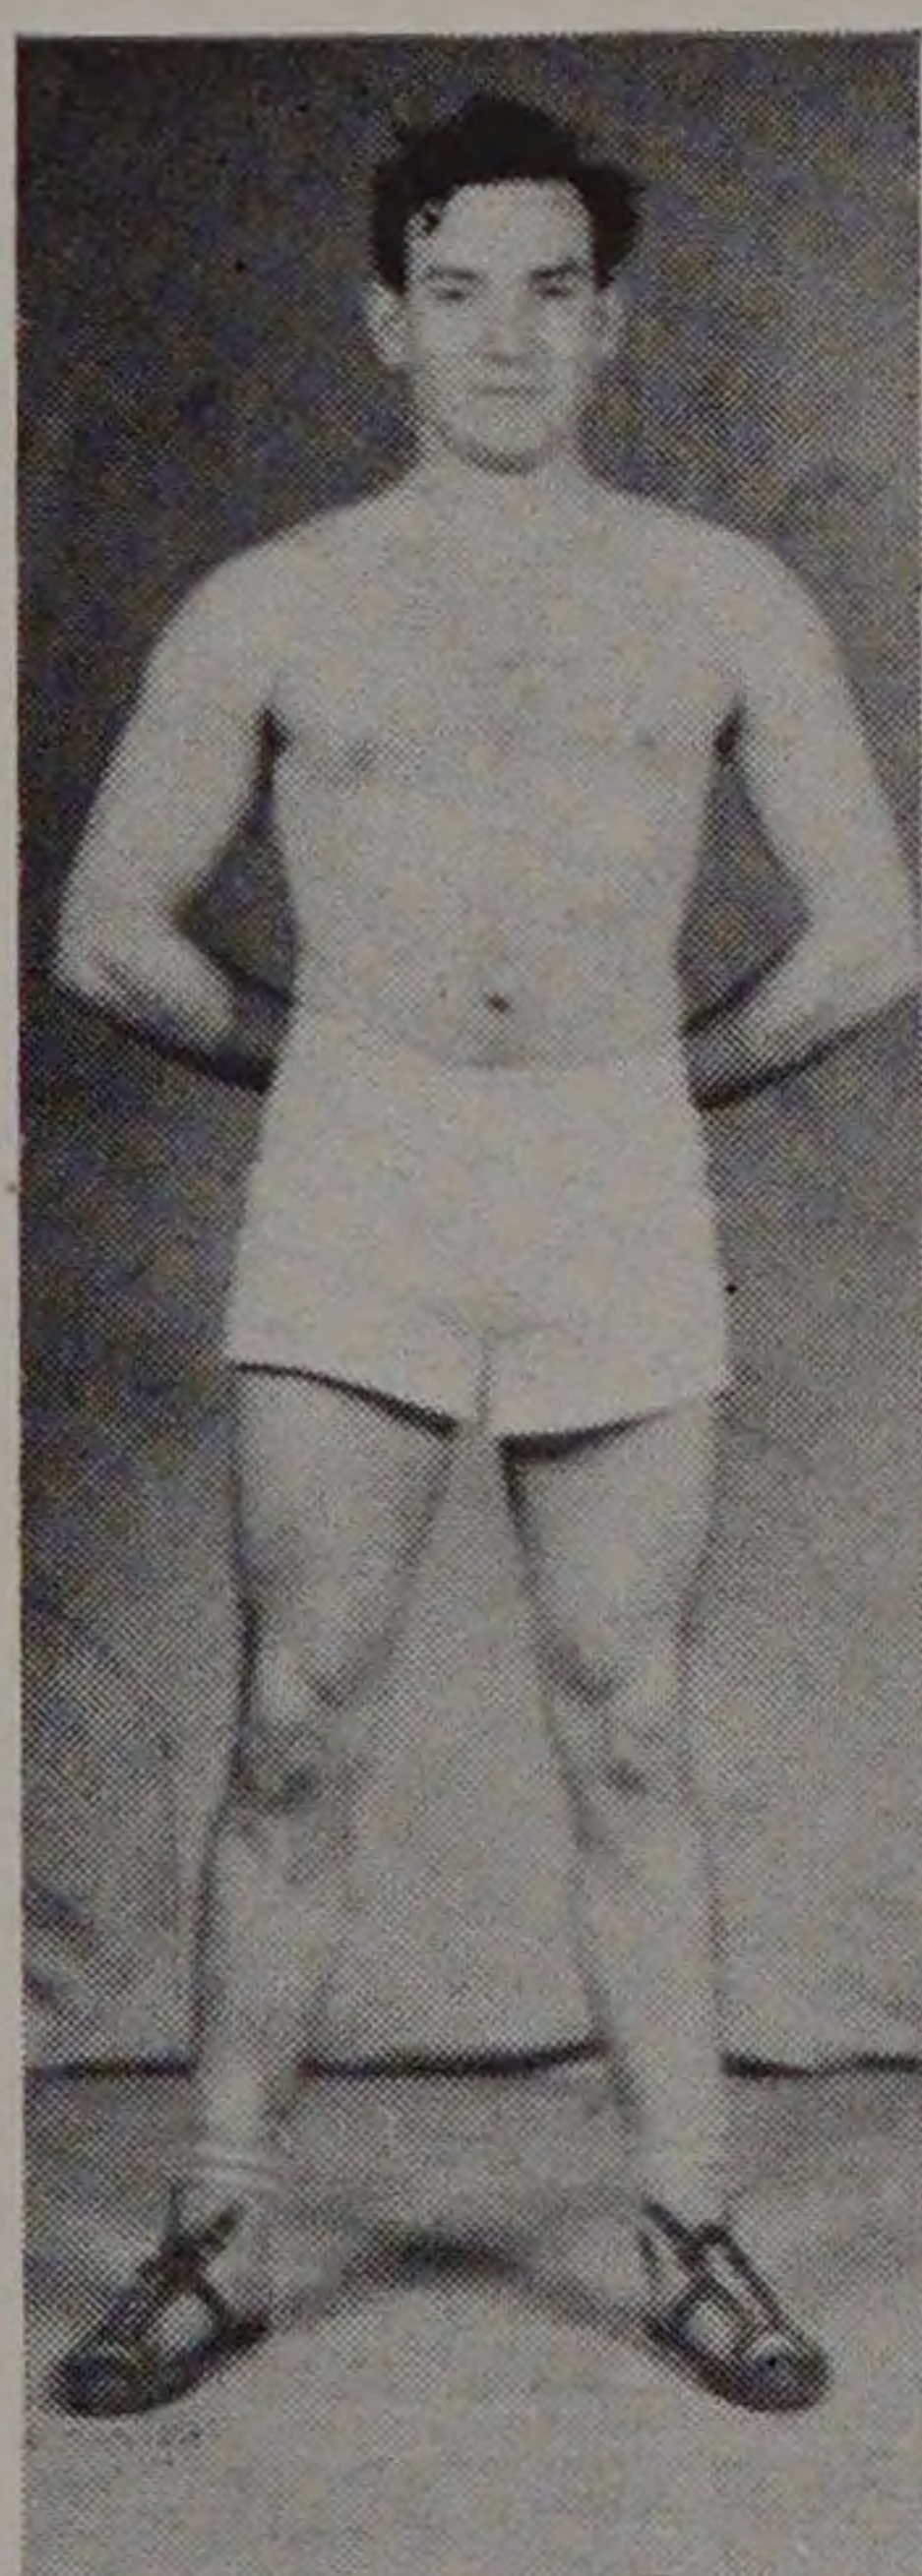

The return meet with Lincoln-Belmont Y. M. C. A. was another loss for Tech, but a $32\frac{1}{2}$ -to- $11\frac{1}{2}$ -point victory over Wright Junior College gave the squad new hope. This hope was evidenced the following week when the North Central meet was won with four pins, two time advantages, and a forfeit. The return meet with North Central gave our grapplers another easy victory, although Tullgren was the only man to win by pinning his opponent. As the end of the season neared, the Tech matmen met the Little Nineteen champions, Wheaton, and for the eighth time in four years Armour was defeated. Undaunted by this defeat, the Techawks closed the season with a bang by overwhelmingly defeating Morton Junior College.

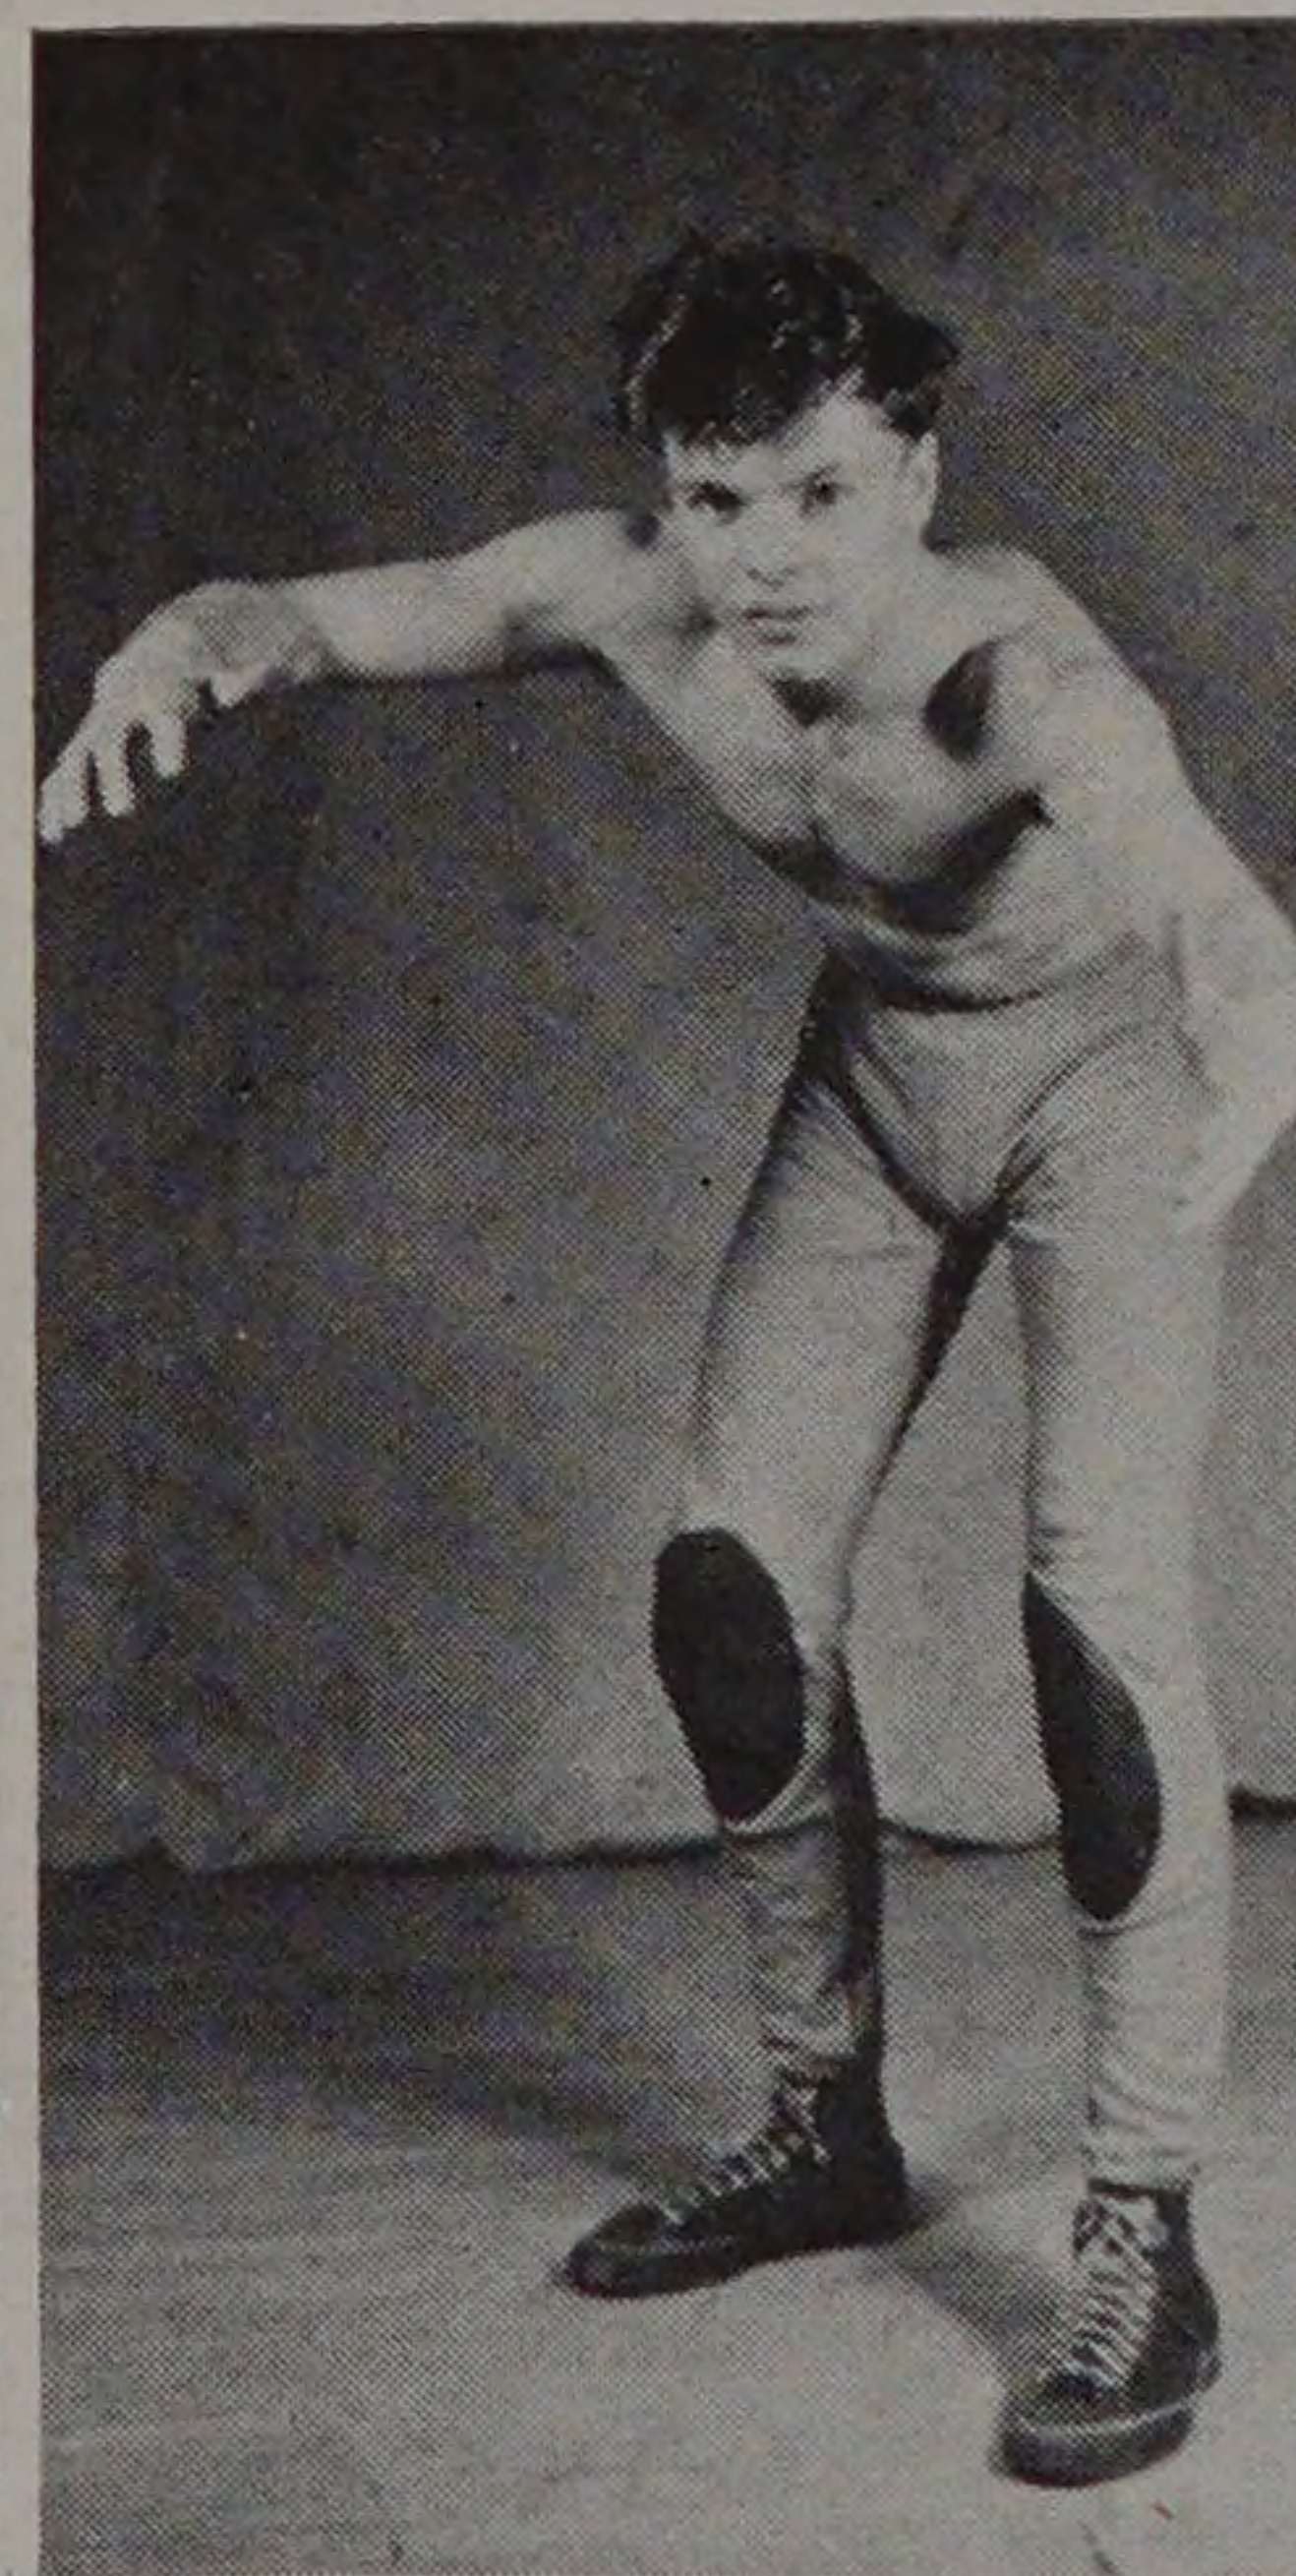

Patterson

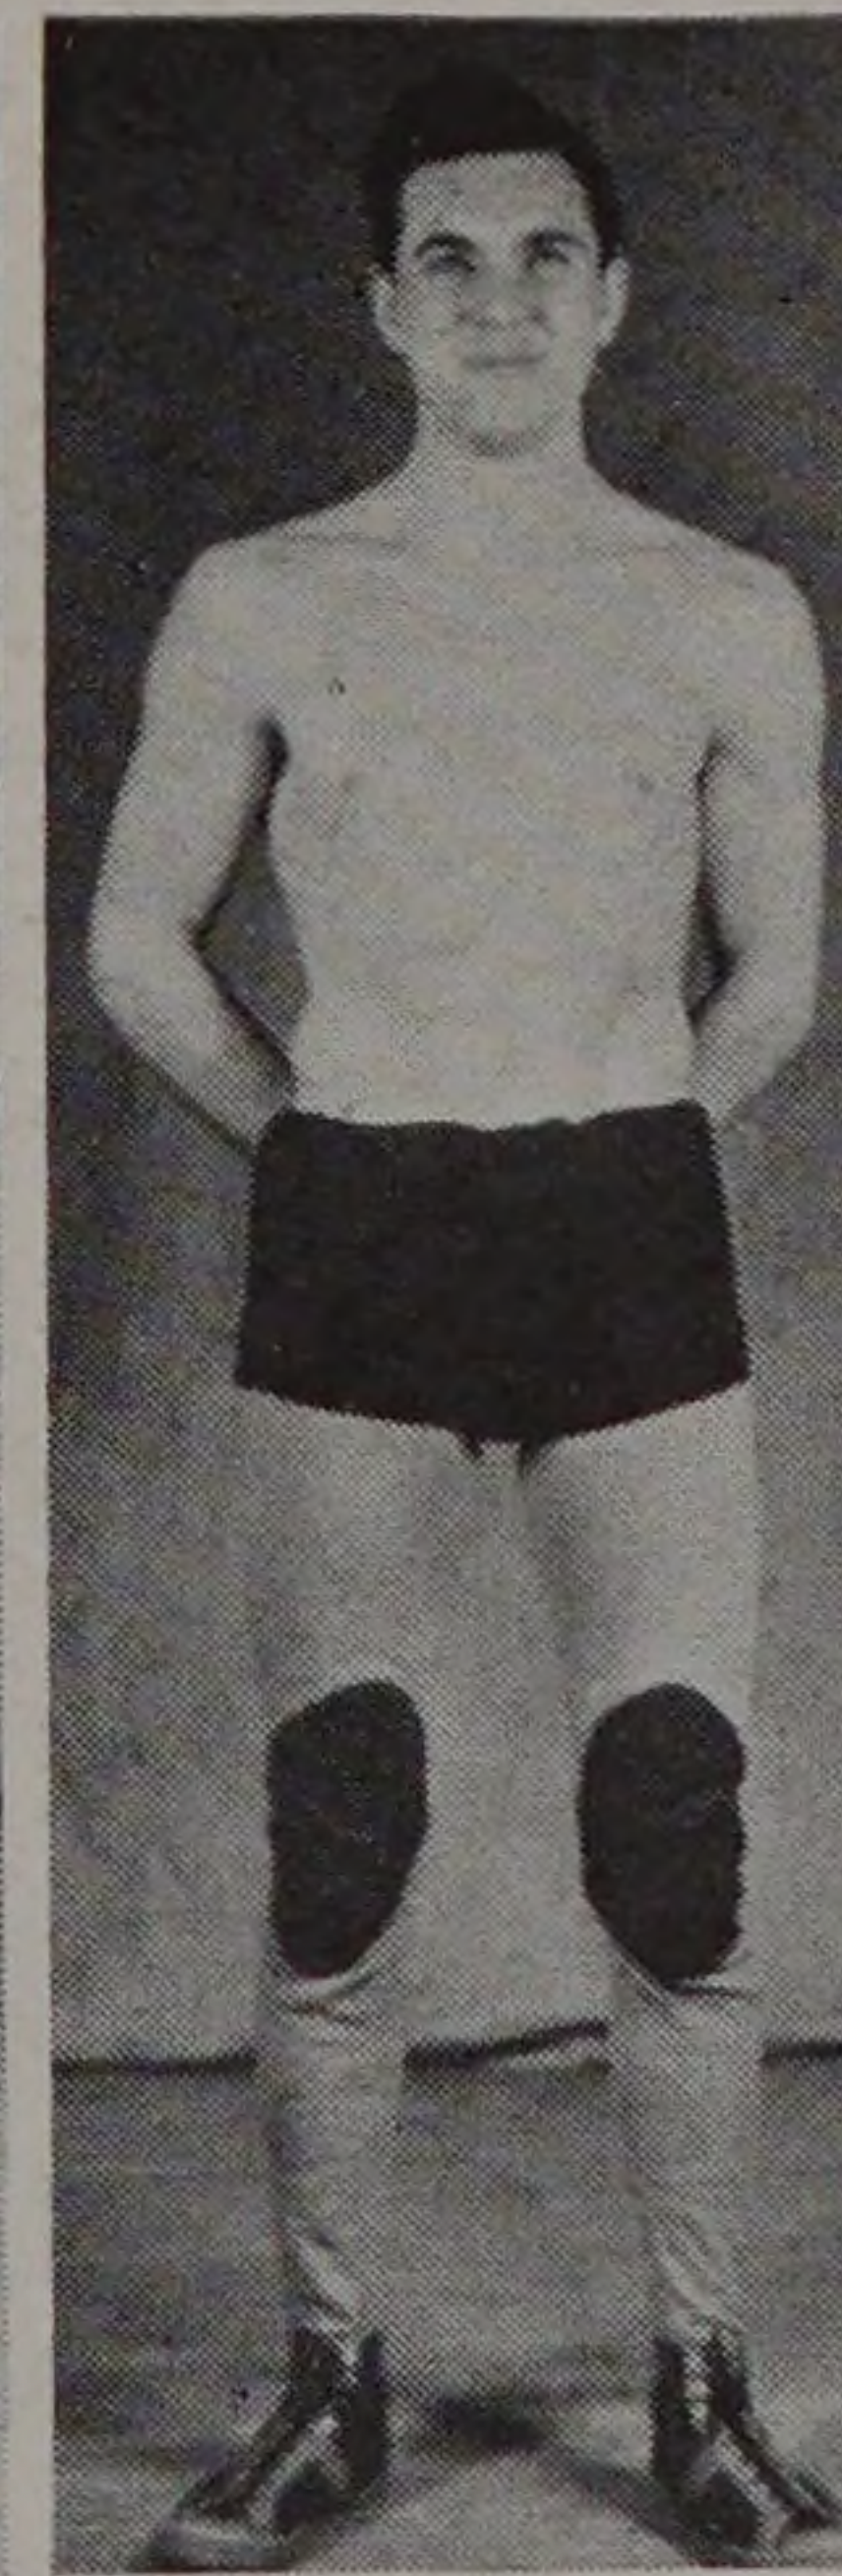

Boberg

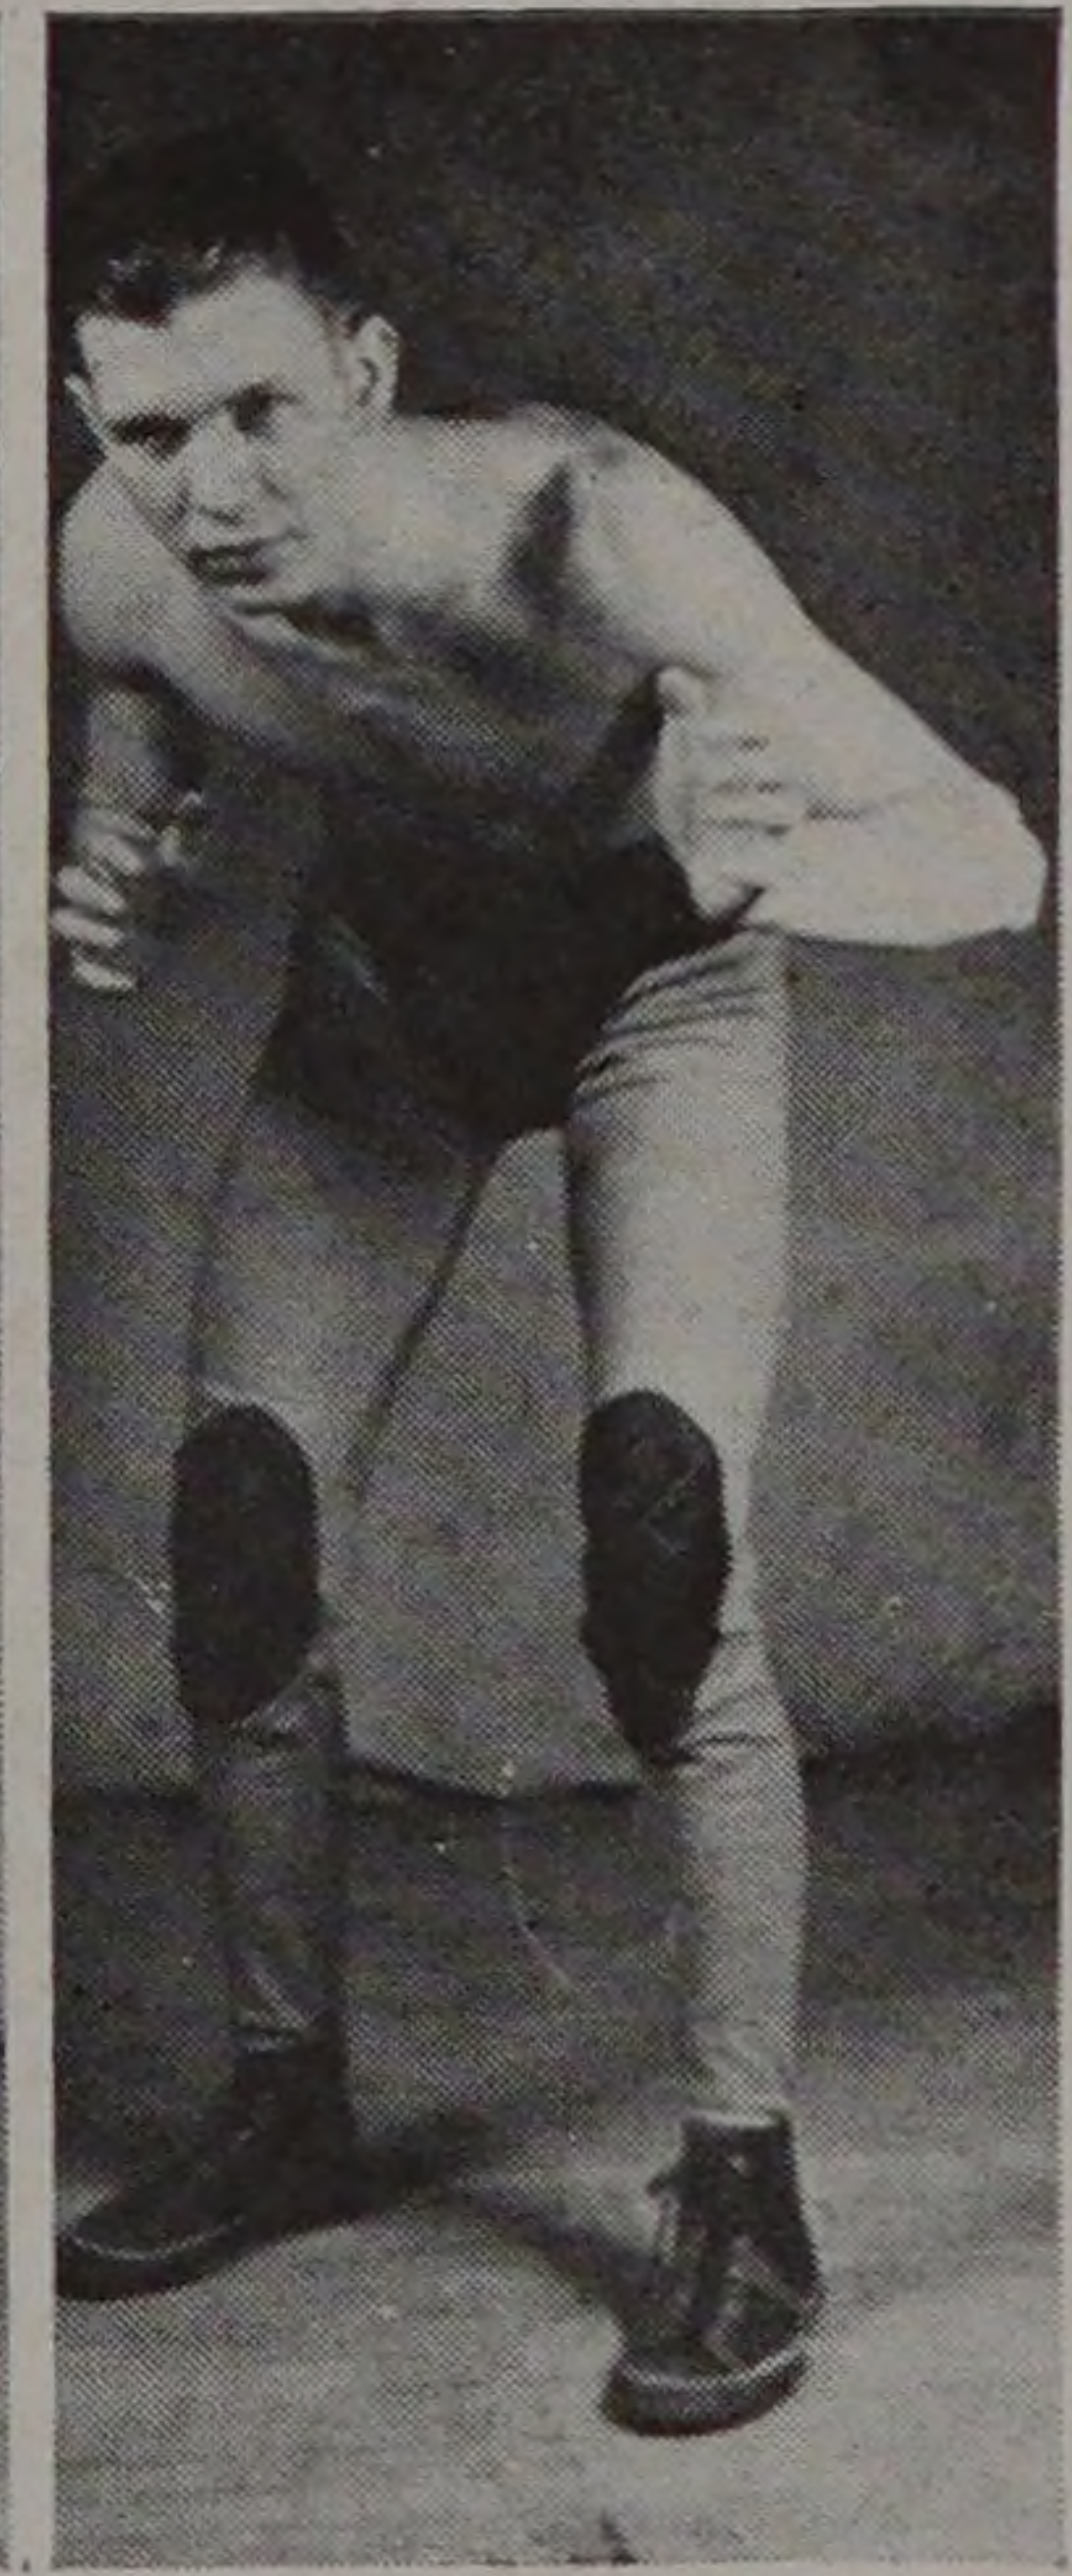

Ormsby

Dunne

Kreml

Kercher