HISTORY

A national fraternity known as Beta Phi was founded at the University of Chicago in 1911. Two years later in March, 1913, a fraternity was organized at Armour Institute of Technology and chartered as Gamma Chapter of Beta Phi.

In the years of 1918 and 1919 Beta Phi as a national organization ceased to exist. However, Gamma chapter retained the name until 1923, when it became a local fraternity at Armour. On November 24, 1923, the local was installed as Gamma Chapter of Phi Pi Phi.

The first concrete suggestion towards petition to Phi Pi Phi was made in May of 1923. The formal petition was entered in September, 1923, and on November 17th the chapter was informed that if it was prepared it might be installed as a regular Chapter of Phi Pi Phi on November 24, 1923.

In the years since then the Fraternity has grown steadily in both numbers and standing. In 1924 Phi Pi Phi was elected to Junior membership in the Interfraternity Conference and was made a Senior member in 1929. The Chapter roll now consists of twenty Chapters in Colleges and Universities throughout the United States.
