

The Sophs rejoice in victory!

At two minutes of Three, Marshals Dixon, Clark, Schmidt, Janicek, Lyckberg, Bush, Collier, and Wagner finished arranging the sand and straw bags, while the sophomores in the north end of the field glowered at the freshmen down at the south end. The gun went off and the long anticipated rush was on. Eggs of an antique nature flew thick and fast while photographers flitted in between to catch snaps of the glorious struggle. After ten minutes of heaving and wrestling the sophomores were judged winners 9-7, while the dismayed and disillusioned freshmen gathered their scattered garments.

The glorious week climaxed in the Junior Informal, held at the beautiful Olympia Fields Country Club. The party was a huge success and a fitting close to a long-to-be-remembered Junior Week at Armour.
