

Scenes from "Journey's End."

After much hard work the play was presented on the evening of January 6, 1939. The new Union auditorium was packed to capacity, marking the effort as a success.

As their second production, the players dramatized "Captain Applejack," presenting it late in the season and scoring another hit. Dramatics at Armour now have been placed on solid footing, with real student interest and participation as a foundation.

T
E
C
H

P
L
A
Y
E
R
S