

DEAN

CHARLES AUSTIN TIBBALS

Counselor, guide, mediator, and teacher—Charles Austin Tibbals is all of these. Famed in alumni annals for his chemistry lectures, remembered as the steady hand and driving force of undergraduate life, Dr. Tibbals fills the chair of Undergraduate Dean with a paternal sincerity and humor.

Joining the Institute as instructor more than thirty years ago, Dean Tibbals since that time has filled numerous positions both in academic and administrative work. His appointment as Undergraduate Dean brought to the office a rare combination of patience, tolerance, and understanding. To many of us he represents Armour, her progress in the past, her present, and her future in a world of technics and science.
